Each mind has the freedom to expand its will;
Each soul has the liberty to define itself;
Like flowers, we are planted to bloom.
The soil is as rich as we make it, the height of our growth Equals our efforts.
If the system is barren, we have the freedom to Change it. We have the freedom to change.

For long you live and high you t
And smiles you'll give and tears you
And all you touch and all you see
And all your life will ever be.

The freedom to know, the freedom to expand
The freedom to change — all these are imperative.
Self-determination is our heritage and our liberty.
It is a proper indication. We will not Appreciate our freedom
until it is hot, cold,
its tipples ride and dry.
Let us know that freedom is water, that it moves fast.

FACES

Faces: the thousand anonymous eyes that laugh and scurry in crowded corridors; the faces of purpose, the involved faces that turn and smile and agree, spin round in their secret worlds. Soon their faces are familiar, and if their names mean nothing, their eyes do. We see them, the faces. They are fragments of our lives, strewn across the halls like bits of colored paper, blowing incomplete through the winding, painted corridors of our memory. And in these faces, flow the ripples of freedom, increasing with the years.

From judging gorgeous legs to raffling off Varsity Cheerleaders with their lunch baskets, Homecoming 1976, coordinated by Mrs. Goodman, was indeed a spirited week for the Federals. During the event filled days, Mickey and Minnie Mouses, Wonder Women, Clowns, Monsters, and many cartoon favorites wandered through the halls and occasionally into a classroom. The gym lobby was transformed into a spook house, Freshman hall became McDonald Land, Junior hall sported the circus, and Sophomore hall featured nursery rhymes. Many students attended a pep rally on Friday, and the same afternoon, at the parade, movie makers, Loonie Tunes, and many others represented the theme of "Entertainment." Homecoming festivities were topped off with a football victory over Lee on Friday night, and followed up on Saturday night with the traditional Homecoming dance.

Homecoming 1976 — “Entertainment In America”

Royalty highlighted homecoming festivities

Bitter cold blends with darkness.
The lights of the car glare, announcing our presence. The parade can't seem to get organized.
Frantic and excited faces. Finally, everything is in place. The ride around the track is hysterical — at first happiness and then questions fill my mind — what is it all about anyway? Walking through the column of the freezing flag corps, the announcing of the queen seems unreal. Suddenly it was all over.
Relief mixed with sadness.

A crisp autumn day kept Homecoming spirit alive

Spirit Week 1976 culminated on Friday, October 22, with the homecoming parade in the afternoon and the football game that night against Lee, which Fort Hunt won. The big event of the evening was the halftime activities. All of the princesses were eager to find out who would become queen and students were anxious to find out which classes won prizes for their hall and float.

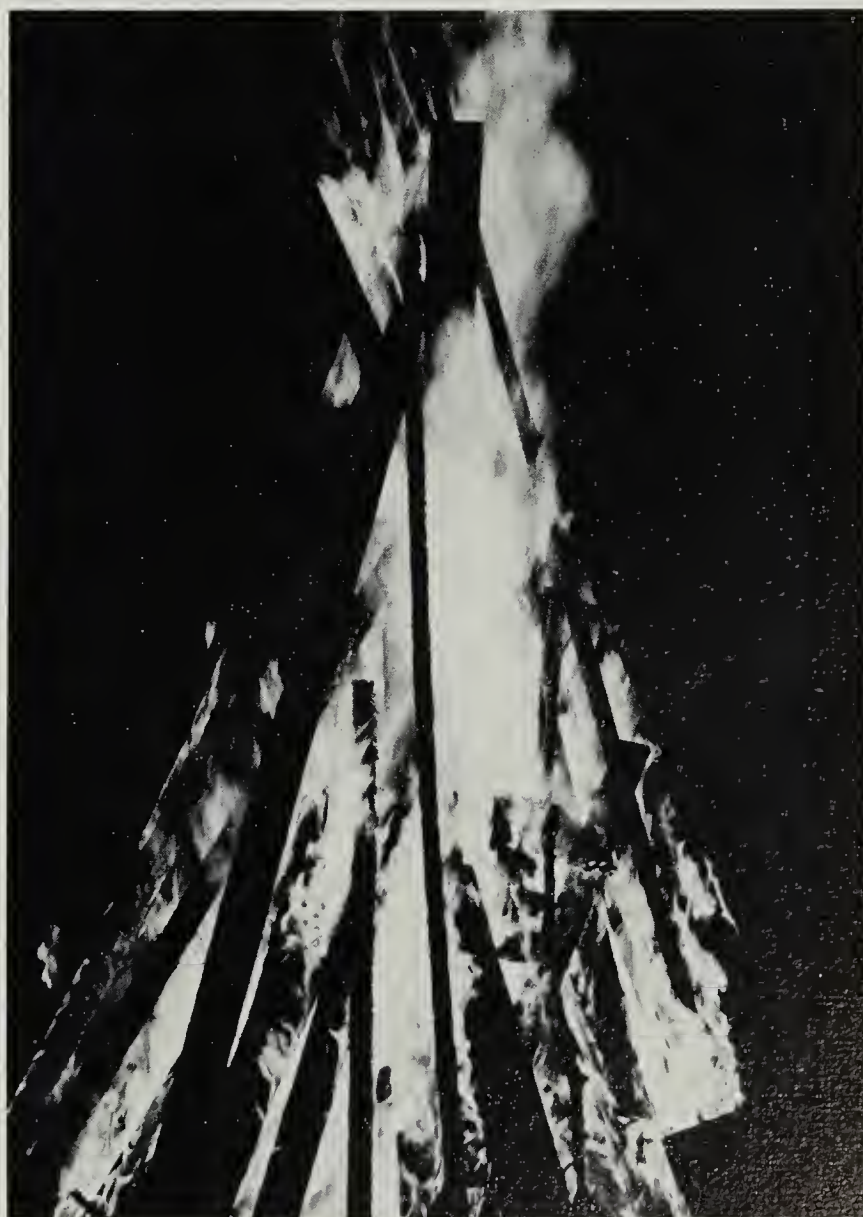

Clockwise from bottom left: Alison delaHaba was seen clowning around at the parade. Friday's Homecoming Parade was led by the Marching Band. Amy Ransom cuddles up with one of the Feds on the Sophomore float. Chris Normyle hams it up as a Keystone Cop. Byron Burt is all set to "blast" Lee. Black Cultural Alliance gives the score on their float. The drama float recaptures the image of Mercel Marceau.

During Spirit Week 1976 the halls of Fort Hunt were like studio sets from Hollywood. With Entertainment as the theme of the week, decorations ranged from Circus Time, to Horror Movies, to McDonald Land, even to Cartoon characters. Micky Mouse and Minnie Mouse were the dominating costumes on Hollywood Dress-Up Day. The Fort could have been the perfect spot for a DeMille production.

Spirit week was set in a Hollywood theme

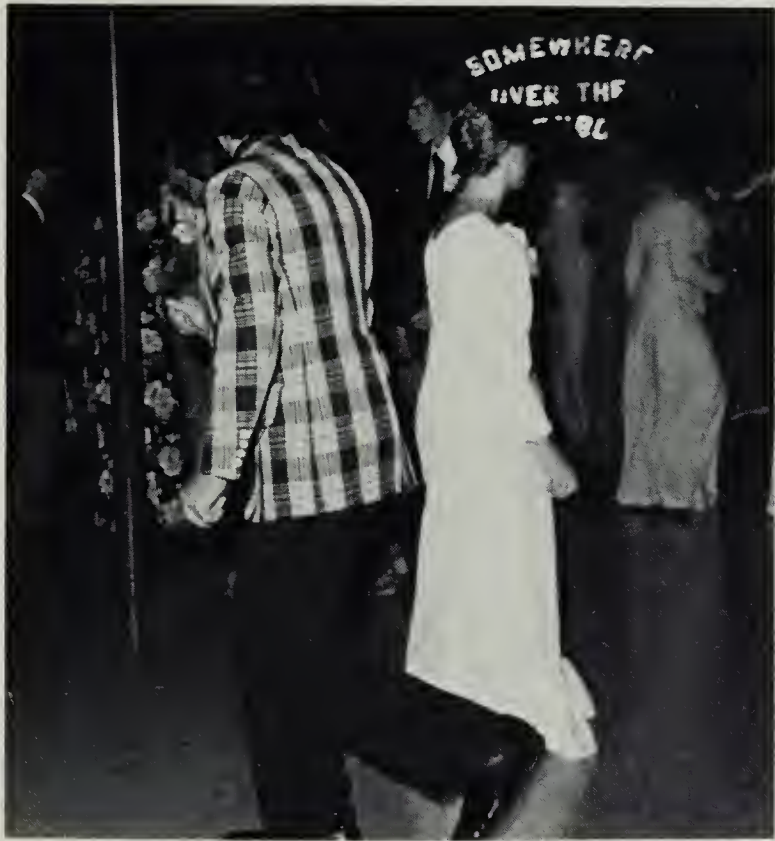

Clockwise from bottom left: The pair of legs third from the left won the Gorgeous Leg Contest. Melissa Weber was "Best Dressed" on Green and White Day. Pep Squad decorates for Spirit Week judging. Doesn't Leslie Harrison make a perfect Playboy Bunny! A spectacular bonfire was a warming event on Thursday night of Spirit Week. Kris Sarro fights "something" in her Wonder Woman outfit.

As couples walked through the doors into the Cafeteria lobby, they seemed to have stumbled into "The Emerald City" from "The Wizard of Oz." The decorations included a "Yellow Brick Road," green lights, the land "Over the Rainbow," and Munchkin Land."

Feds happily escaped to "The Land of Oz"

Clockwise from far left: Rich Clements and Donna Ruggiero make it swing. Moochie Bacak and Jackie McCarthy seem to enjoy slow dancing. Marty Everest and Marshal Dodd enjoy the music. Fort Hunt students stroll down the yellow brick road. . . . "Future" rocks on in "The Land of Oz."

Club Day on September 15, 1976 gave all Freshmen and many other interested students a chance to see what clubs and organizations Fort Hunt has to offer. Service Clubs, Special Interest Clubs, and School Publications all had displays. The groups participating did so with hopes of gaining many new members.

Club day reflected student involvement

This year Pep Rallies were very important in raising team spirit and involving the student body. The spirit that the students raised before games showed in the football team's season records. With the Drill Team, Cheerleaders, and Band, the pace of the action peaked as the classes held their own in cheering.

Clockwise from left: Dr. Manning proudly shows off the Band's trophies won during the summer months. The Sophomore section shows intense interest during a Pep Rally. Some Varsity Cheerleaders desperately try to get Freshmen interested in their school. Jocks use "The Cage" to sift out apathetic cheerers. The class of '79 gets its act together. Cindy Adams helps Coach Creneti mix up the winning recipe.

Rallies involved spirited school population

Fall production displayed various talents

The Curious Savage, was the first play of the year for the Fort Hunt Drama Department. With afternoon and long night rehearsals, countless hours of stage preparation, interruptions because of the football playoffs, the fall play was presented on November 18, 19, 20. The Curious Savage was a comedy in three acts relating insanity in an assylum to sanity in the outside world.

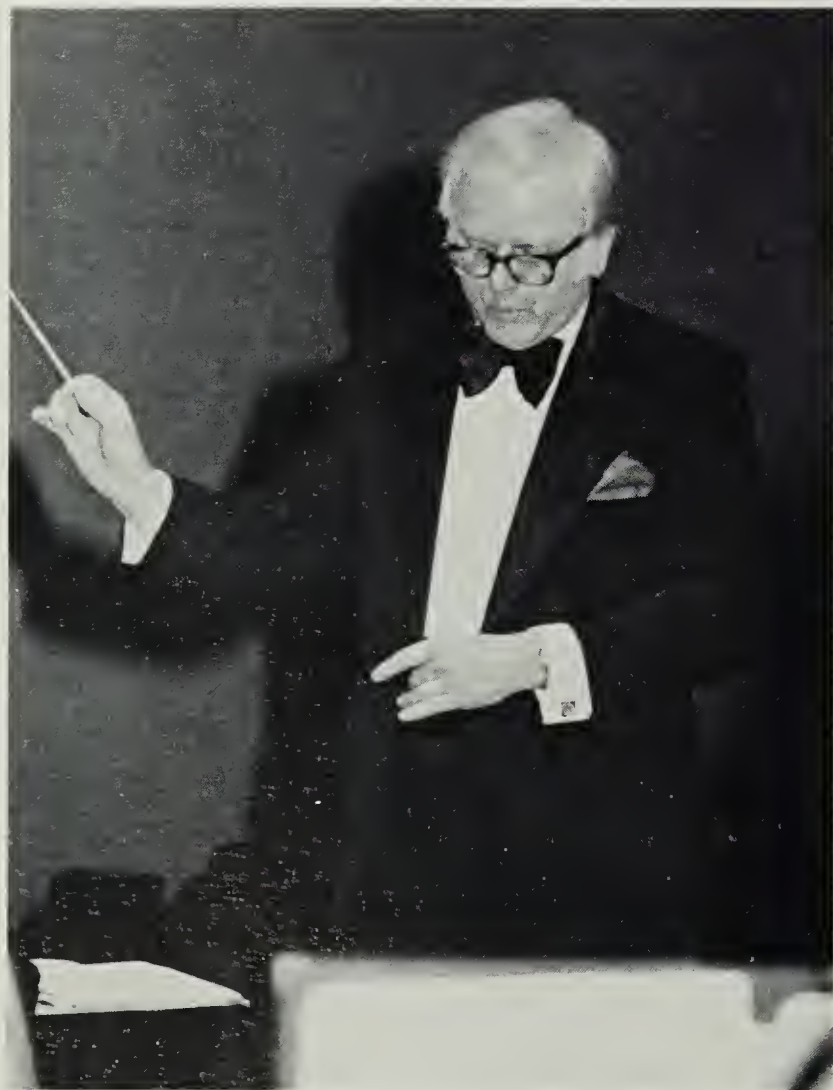

Clockwise from far top left; "What a low-cut dress your daughter is wearing," observes Hannibal (Jim Meade). "This is my pink and black Teddy Bear," admits Mrs. Savage (Michele Schaffer) to her daughter Lily Belle (Lisa Clermont). Dr. Emmett (Mike Black) wonders, "What could Mrs. Savage do with ten million dollars?" "Jeff, I'm sure you are a very fine pianist, and you shouldn't be ashamed to perform," admonishes Mrs. Savage to Jeff (Ron Floyd).

Solo artists debut with orchestra

On Lincoln's Birthday, the Symphonic Orchestra held a guest artist concert featuring Lt. Col. Mitchell, Ret., from the Army Band; Linda Baker, bass clarinet soloist; and Amy Gordon, violin soloist.

The Orchestra performed "Lincoln Portrait," honoring the occasion.

Clockwise from right: Beth Earl and Linda Wiggins concentrate on one of the numbers. Sophomore Amy Gordon solos on her violin. Alumna Linda Baker returns to perform a solo. The oboes contributed their part. Bassoonists Cady Stauss and Jenny Stone accompany in "Lincoln Portrait." Lt. Col. Mitchell directs a movement from a Haydn symphony.

Well, they really did "play that funky music". Throughout the Thanksgiving Dance on November 27 "Summit" rocked and rolled and discoed for two and a half hours to a not always large but usually rowdy crowd. Because of the tender gym floor, the cafeteria was used this year for dances, a situation not everyone was happy with. However, most people managed to adjust, preferring hustling to complaining anytime.

SUMMIT plays to a rockin' crowd

Clockwise from left: Richard Pierce and Mike Brewer ponder over the thought of running off with the cash box. An energetic participant shows a new jump to the crowd. "Summit" plays in the modified dance hall, the cafeteria, which some students find only adequate. Jill Neatherey and Tom Gibbons dance "cheek to cheek".

This year's Black History Week was one of the most interesting ever. The various programs were well organized and meticulously carried out. Many different administrators, educators, and businessmen spoke at seminars on topics ranging from corporate industry to African art. These activities brought together most of the students in one way or another. The heavily stressed theme, "Roots of America," dealt mainly with African heritage. However, the theme was most congruent with the recent efforts to improve all human relations at Fort Hunt.

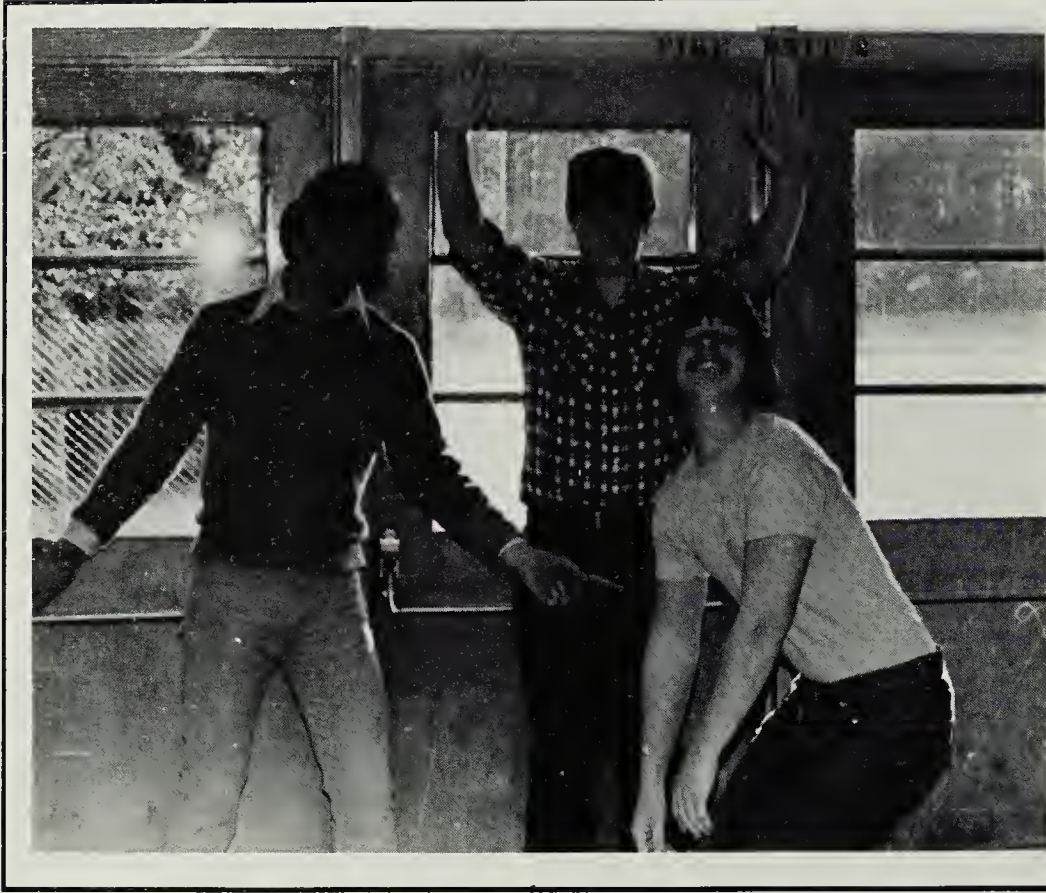

Well organized Black History Week

Clockwise from far left: Colonel Patrick, speaker on Military Intelligence, receives help finding his lecture room. Dr. Russell Adams, keynote speaker for the day, enjoyed two large audiences in the auditorium. Students anxiously register for seminars. A good tasting lecture on African food was welcomed by all. Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Hinman, who have been to Africa several times, showed students their remembrances.

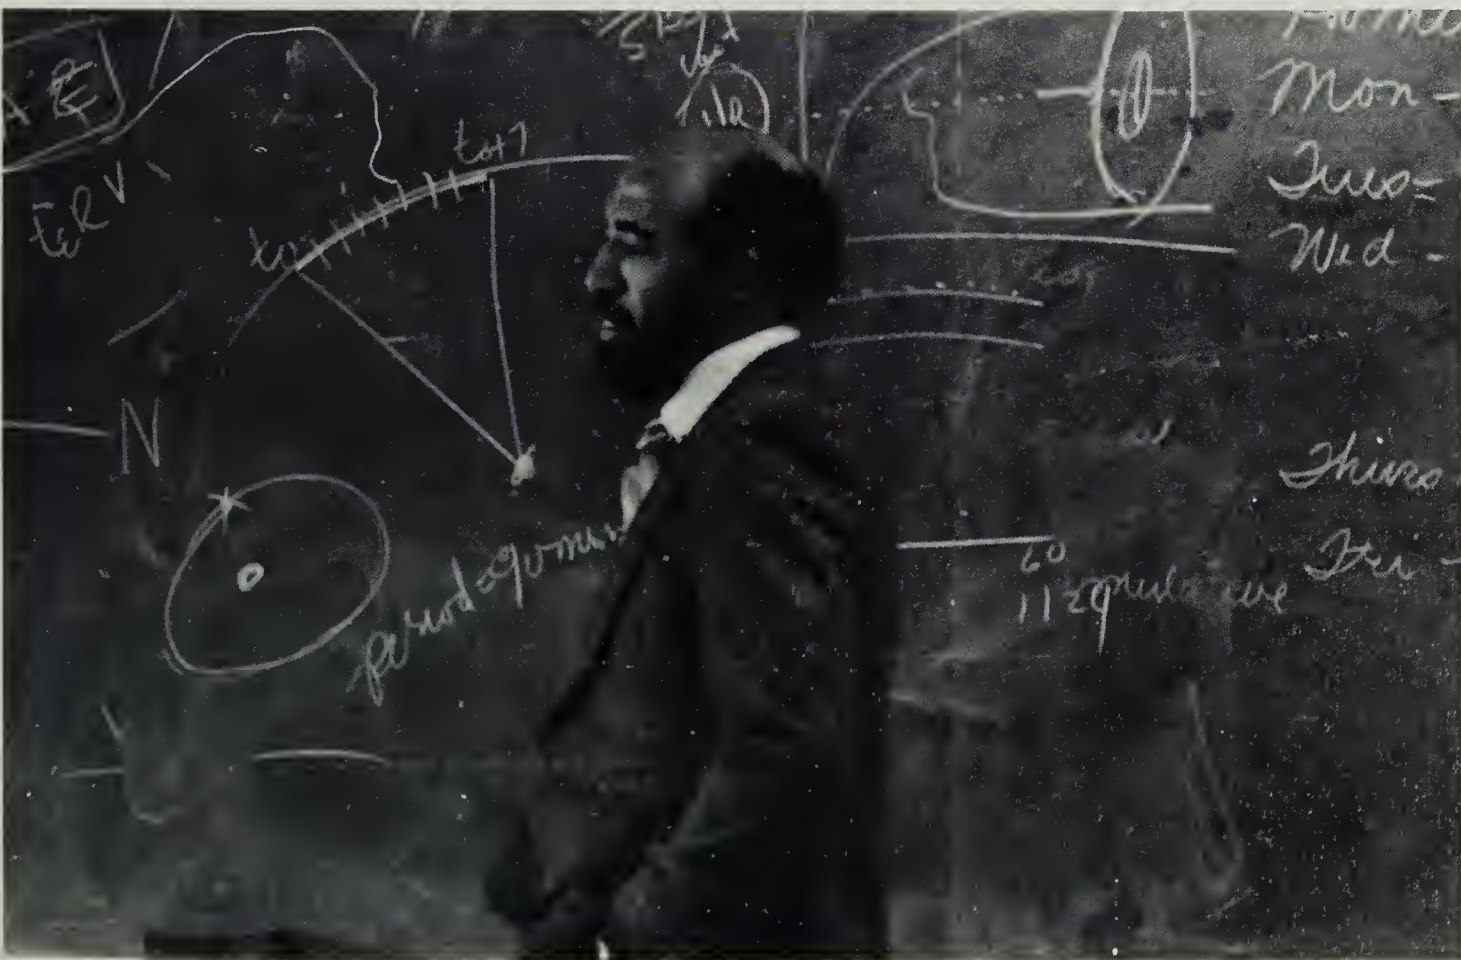

portrays "Roots of America"

Clockwise from far left: Mrs. Williams and other faculty chat with Area 1 Superintendent, Dr. Howard. Julian Reeves speaks to students about Government Classification. Some speakers were either late or not here so students had to wait. John W. Morton came to speak on Computer Programming. Mrs. Ayensu spoke on African food and culture. Some students tried to escape from the school grounds, but the administrative guard was too tough.

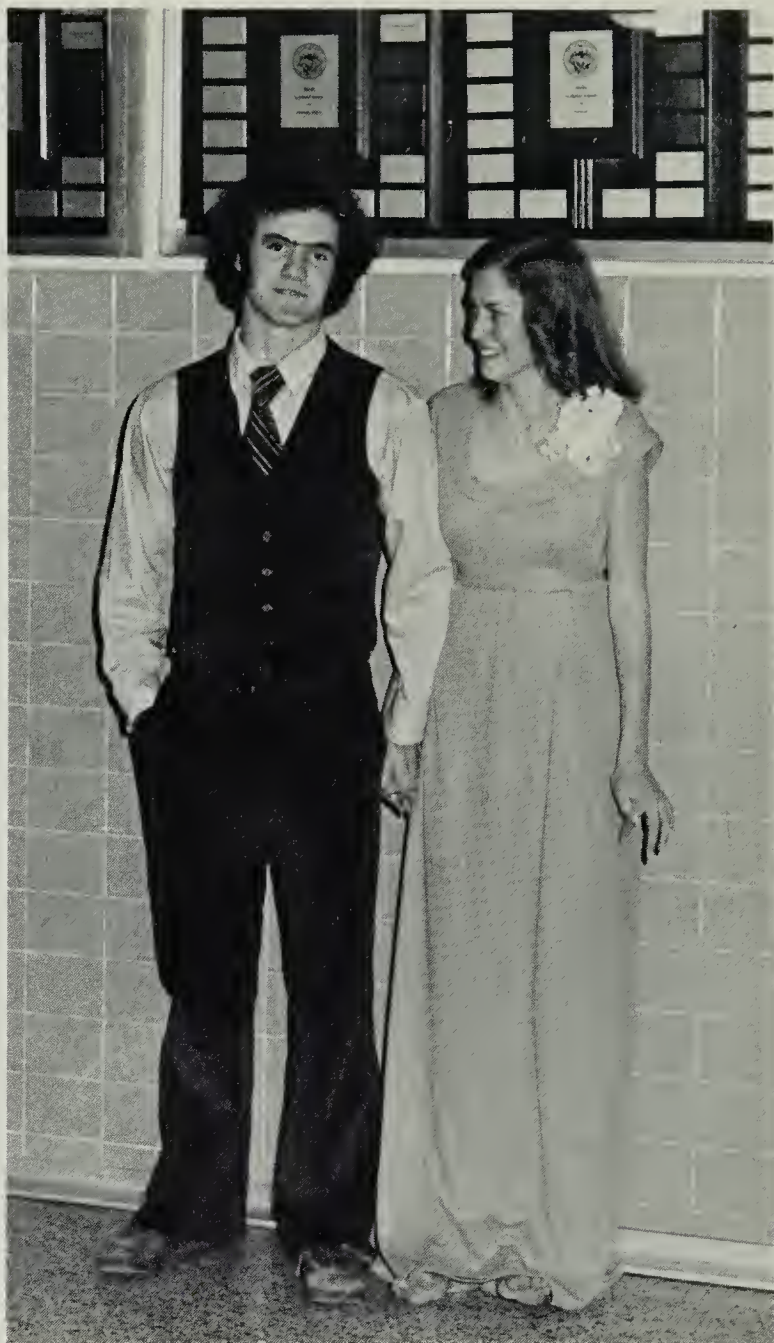

Normyle named mr. wonderful '77

Clockwise from top left: Betsy Wiggins, Shari Clark and Sharon Clark sing a trio during one of the band's breaks. Chris Normyle receives a candy heart after being selected Mr. Wonderful. Lori Hewitt primps for the photographer.

Clockwise from far left: Randy Butler and Amy Gribbens dance to the music of Prelude. Chris Normyle, escorting Rachael Bezdek poses for the traditional shot of Mr. Wonderful. Lead guitarist of Prelude adds words to his music. Various students boogie to the music. Prelude warms up to a very receptive audience.

Sativa concert draws record turnout

The first rock concert to be presented at Fort Hunt in three years featured "Split Enz" and "Sativa," announced by administrative aide Rusty Glazer. Curiosity and the need to hear some good music brought people together. A colorful light show from "Split Enz" gave way to the sequined members of "Sativa." A lot of good partying accompanied the familiar songs of "Lynyrd Skynyrd" and "Aerosmith," making this concert the first of many to come.

Left to right: Concert goes boogie to the music. The lead singer adds his touch. Sativa wails on their last number.

Seniors get a pie in the face . . .

Amidst senior slump and spring fever the Junior and Senior classes drummed up a basketball team for the Junior-Senior Basketball game. The game was slow and so were the scores. But, as usual, someone got a pie in the face; this time, Brian Jackson. Clockwise from near right: Steve Spangler tries for a right bank shot. The girls team really "goes for it". Chris Normyle attempts to encourage his Senior team.

. . . and the Gems mash the Maulers.

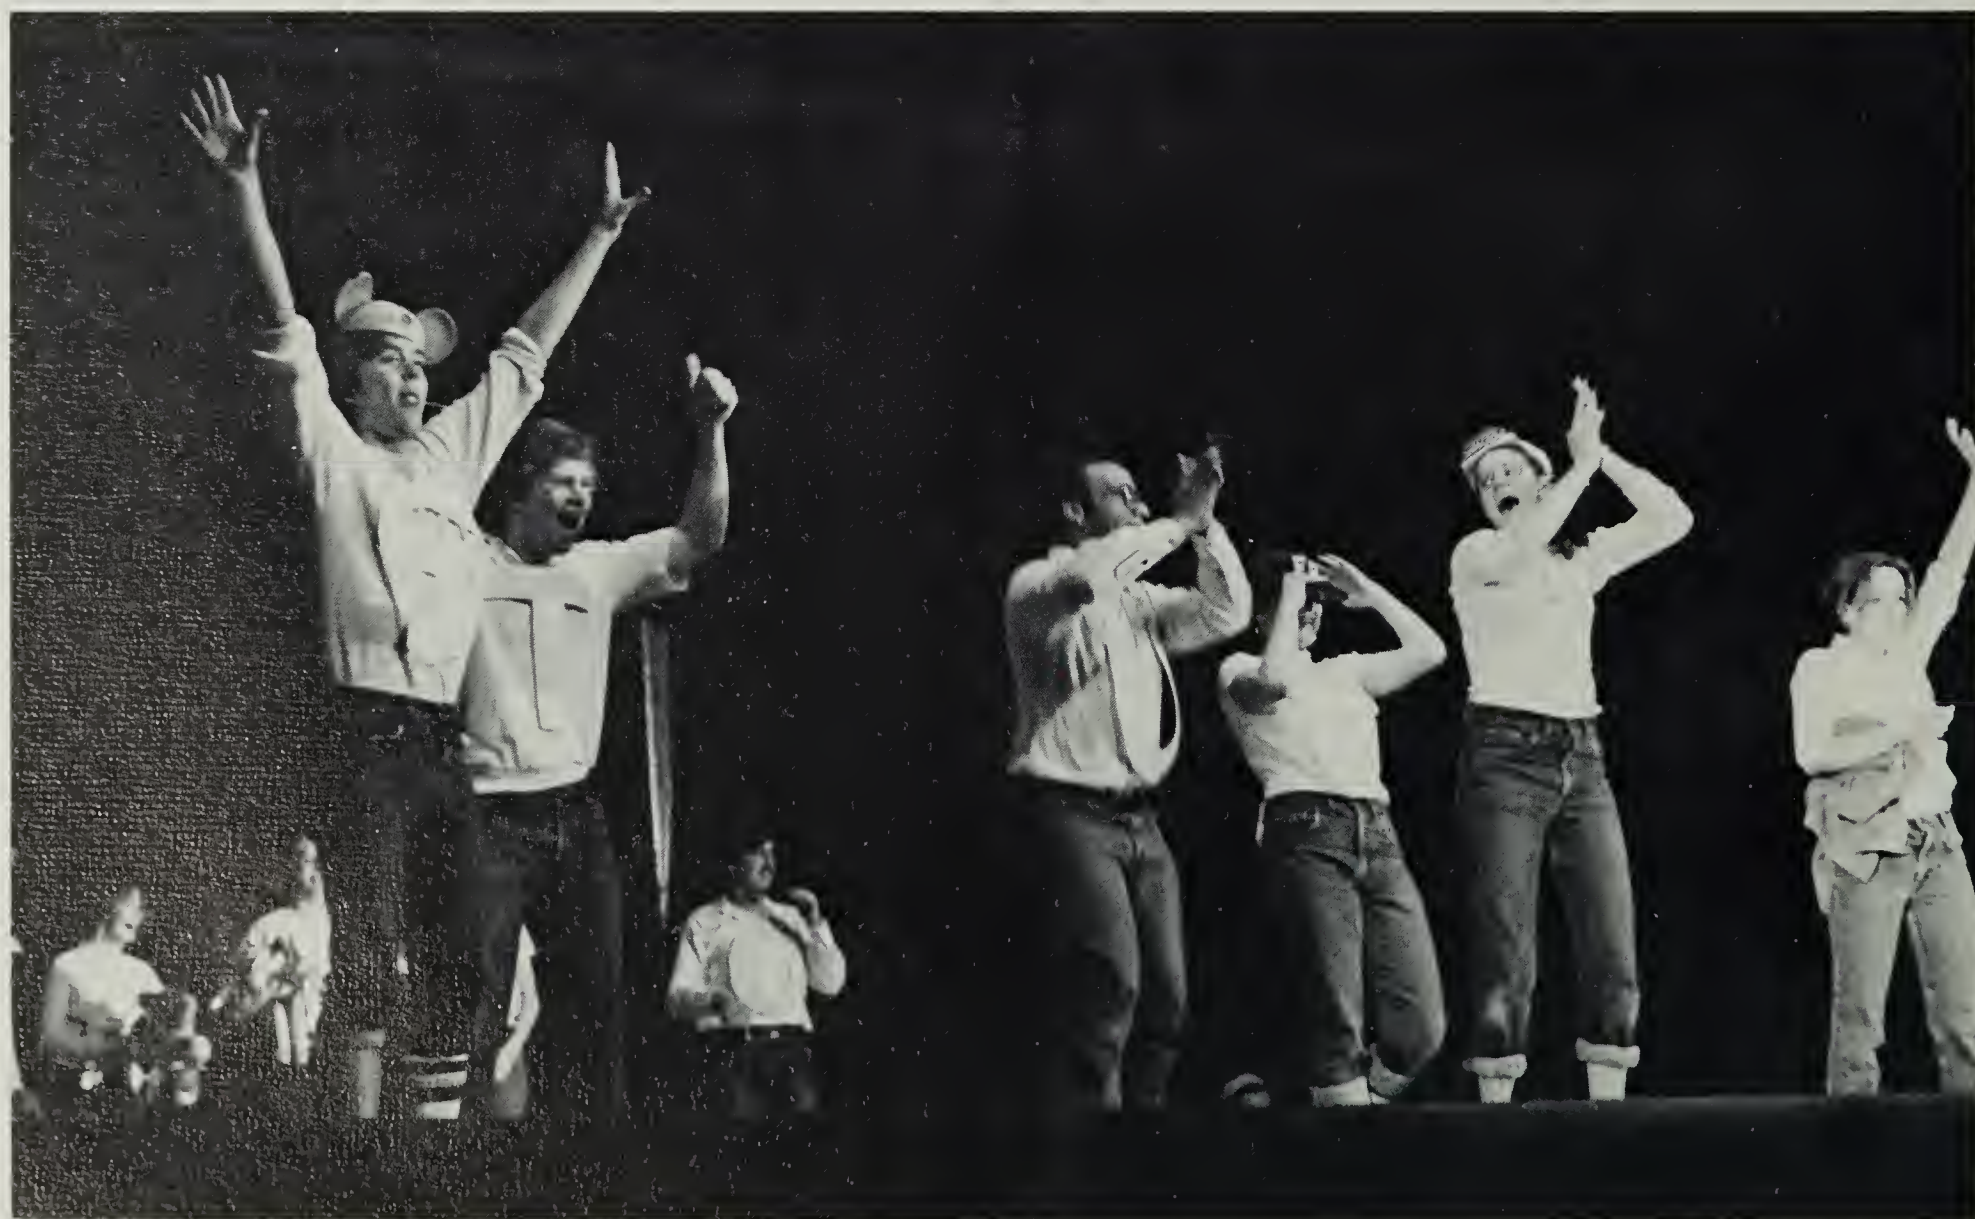

Coming all the way from the Midwest, the Arkansas Gems arrived at Fort Hunt and showed Manning's Maulers a thing or two. A female Harlem Globetrotters, the Gems used every trick in the book to keep the ball away from the Maulers. There wasn't much of a crowd, but the Gems put Manning's Maulers to shame. Clockwise from above: The Varsity Cheerleaders encourage their sad team. A Gem helps a tired player to the bench. No. 4 shows no. 78 that women are good basketball players too!

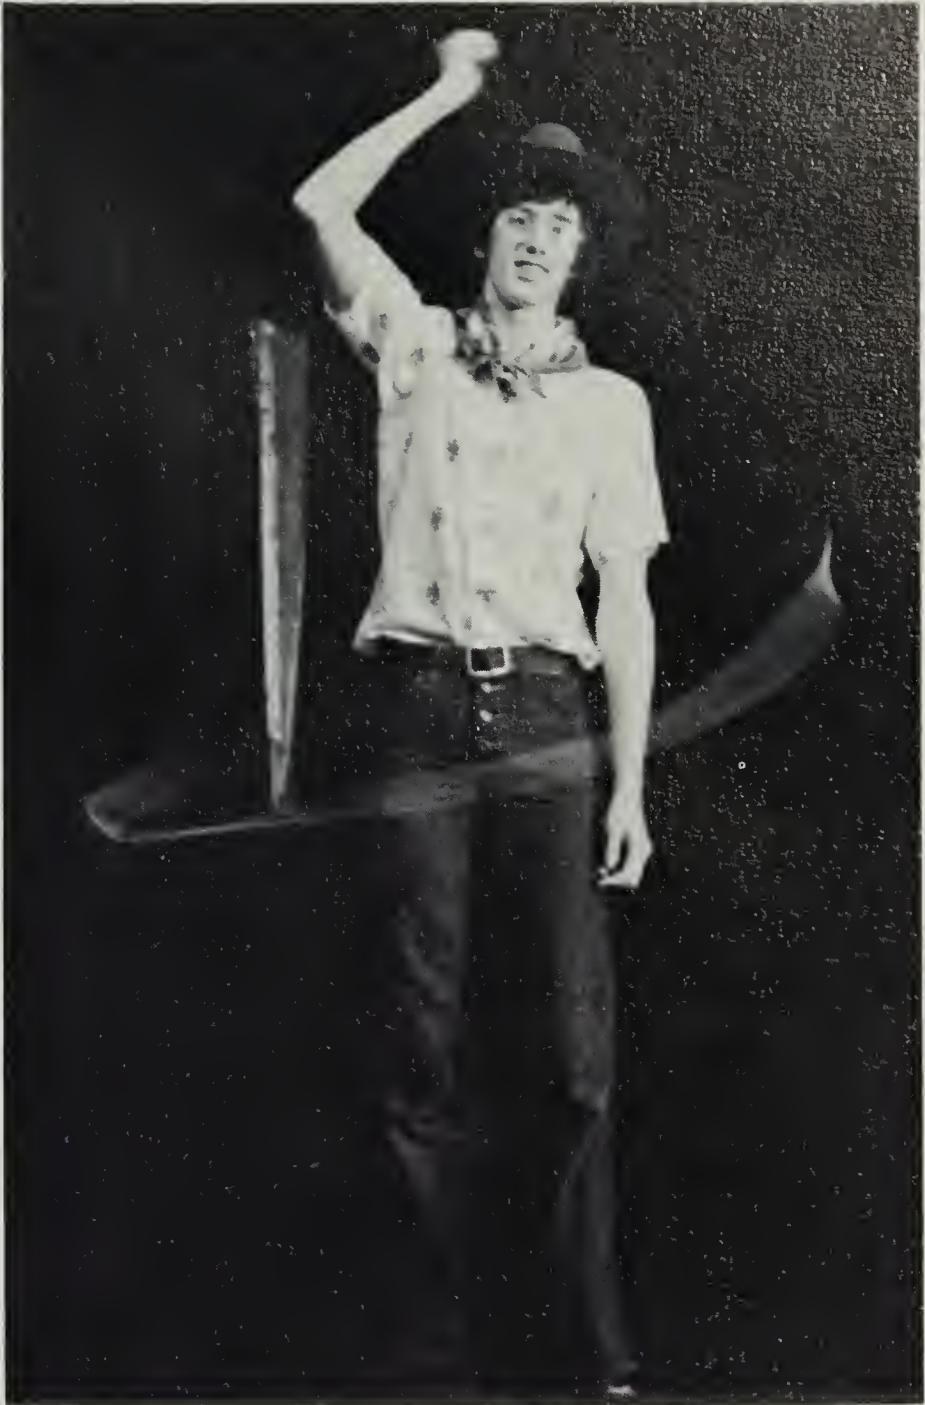

The first Fort Hunt Gong Show startled both audience and participants. Various serious and comic acts provided interesting entertainment for the audience, who reciprocated the efforts by throwing fresh eggs onstage. The members of the alphabet then retaliated, spelling out a word which expressed their feelings to the audience. All in all, there were about twenty acts, judged by Host Stuart Long and panel members Mrs. Anderson, Steve Wirt, and Mandy Jordan. Two girls in striped stockings, dancing under a strobe light, won the prize for best act.

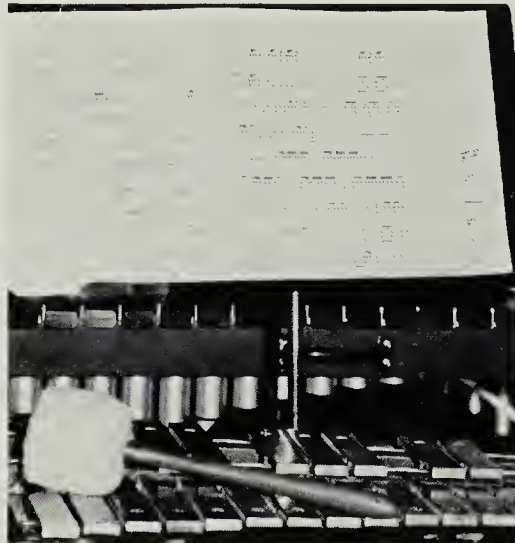

Clockwise from right: The winners receive their "prize." Jeff Priest and Matt Howard make beautiful music together. Gary Salisbury rustles with the ropes. The ghost of rock to come hits the stage. Ted Wilmont struts his stuff. Several members of the alphabet spell out meaningful words to the crowd.

Gong show hits with yoke and yodel

Massachusetts bands made exchange concert more enjoyable

Clockwise from above: The Concert Band's brass section concentrates on their music. Mr. Blake cues the percussion section. The University of Massachusetts Brass Choir played varied types of music. Mr. Chestnut, director of the Brass Choir, motions the ensemble for a crescendo. After a fine performance, the Quabbin Band received a standing ovation.

In mid-February, the Symphonic Band held an exchange concert with the Quabbin, Massachusetts High School Band and the University of Massachusetts Brass Choir. Both the Concert Band and Symphonic Band performed. The highlight of the evening was the performance of Kilinokov's Finale from Symphony no. 4. This number was performed by the Quabbin band and the U of Mass. Brass Choir.

Where's a crap game?

Clockwise from left: Lori Sugg watches as her makeup is put on. Judd Lawrence shrugs off questions as to his reliability. Frank McCarthy rolls the dice in hopes of a seven. Members of the Hotbox sing "Take Back Your Mink". Kim Ervin and Tim Horn discuss saving the mission.

Guys and Dolls was said to be the most successful play certainly of the year, and of other years as well. Excellently choreographed and directed, and skillfully executed, Ft. Hunt's Drama Department demonstrated its somewhat considerable dramatic and musical ability. A long list of numbers involved perhaps close to one hundred students, including a hardworking crew. This Damon Runyon hit proved such to the audience who viewed it, on three successively sold out nights.

Clockwise from top left: Suzanne Davenport executes a jump in her routine. John Gray extends himself to work on the lights. The chorus strikes a statuette pose. Judd Lawrence explains crime to John Laffan. Sheri Conover pouts in response to Judd Lawrence.

Academics need concentration and participation

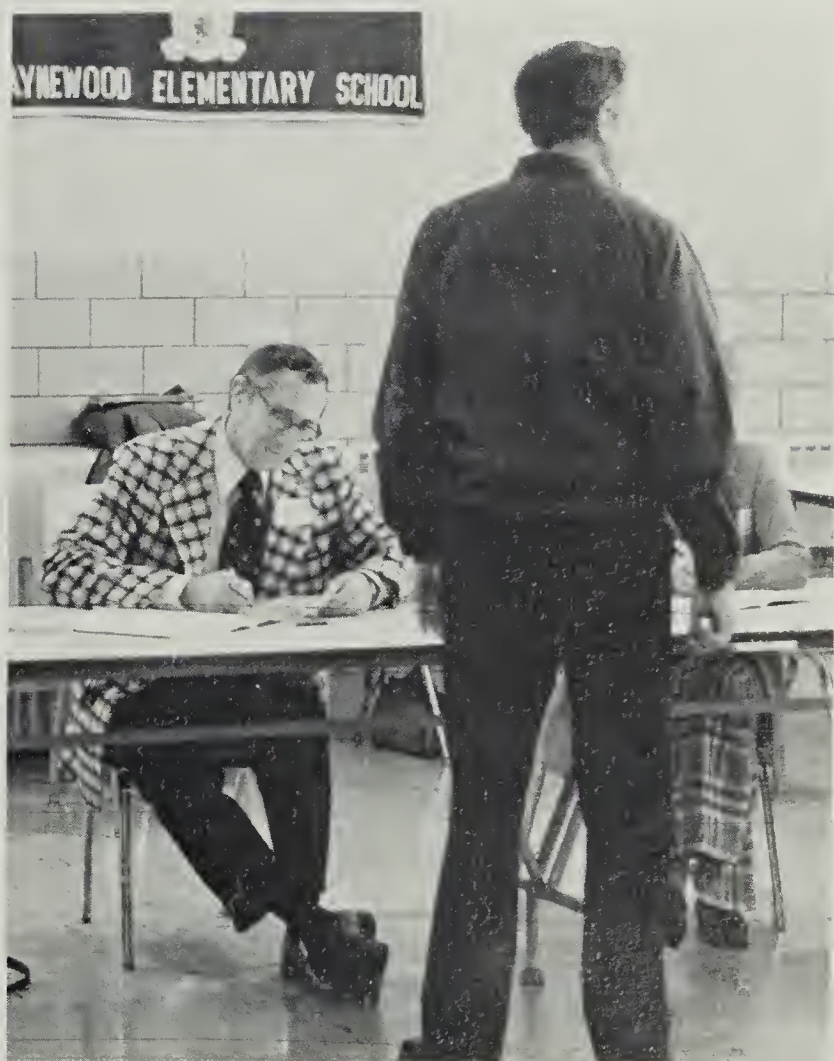

Clockwise from far top left: Tim Horn asks Mr. Pate how to add; Ann Reed and Edgar Allan Poe keep company; Girls' gym students fight over volleyballs; Mike Murphy works dilligently on his math homework; Miss Wilson's class reads Shakespeare aloud; Sometimes typing does get very boring.

Election '76 was the closest election in ten years. The race was between two down to earth men, Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter. The victor this year was Mr. Carter. But, in the Fort Hunt Area Mr. Ford was the winner. The Carter rally, in Olde Town Alexandria's Tavern Square, was a success for the Carter supporting Fort Hunt students.

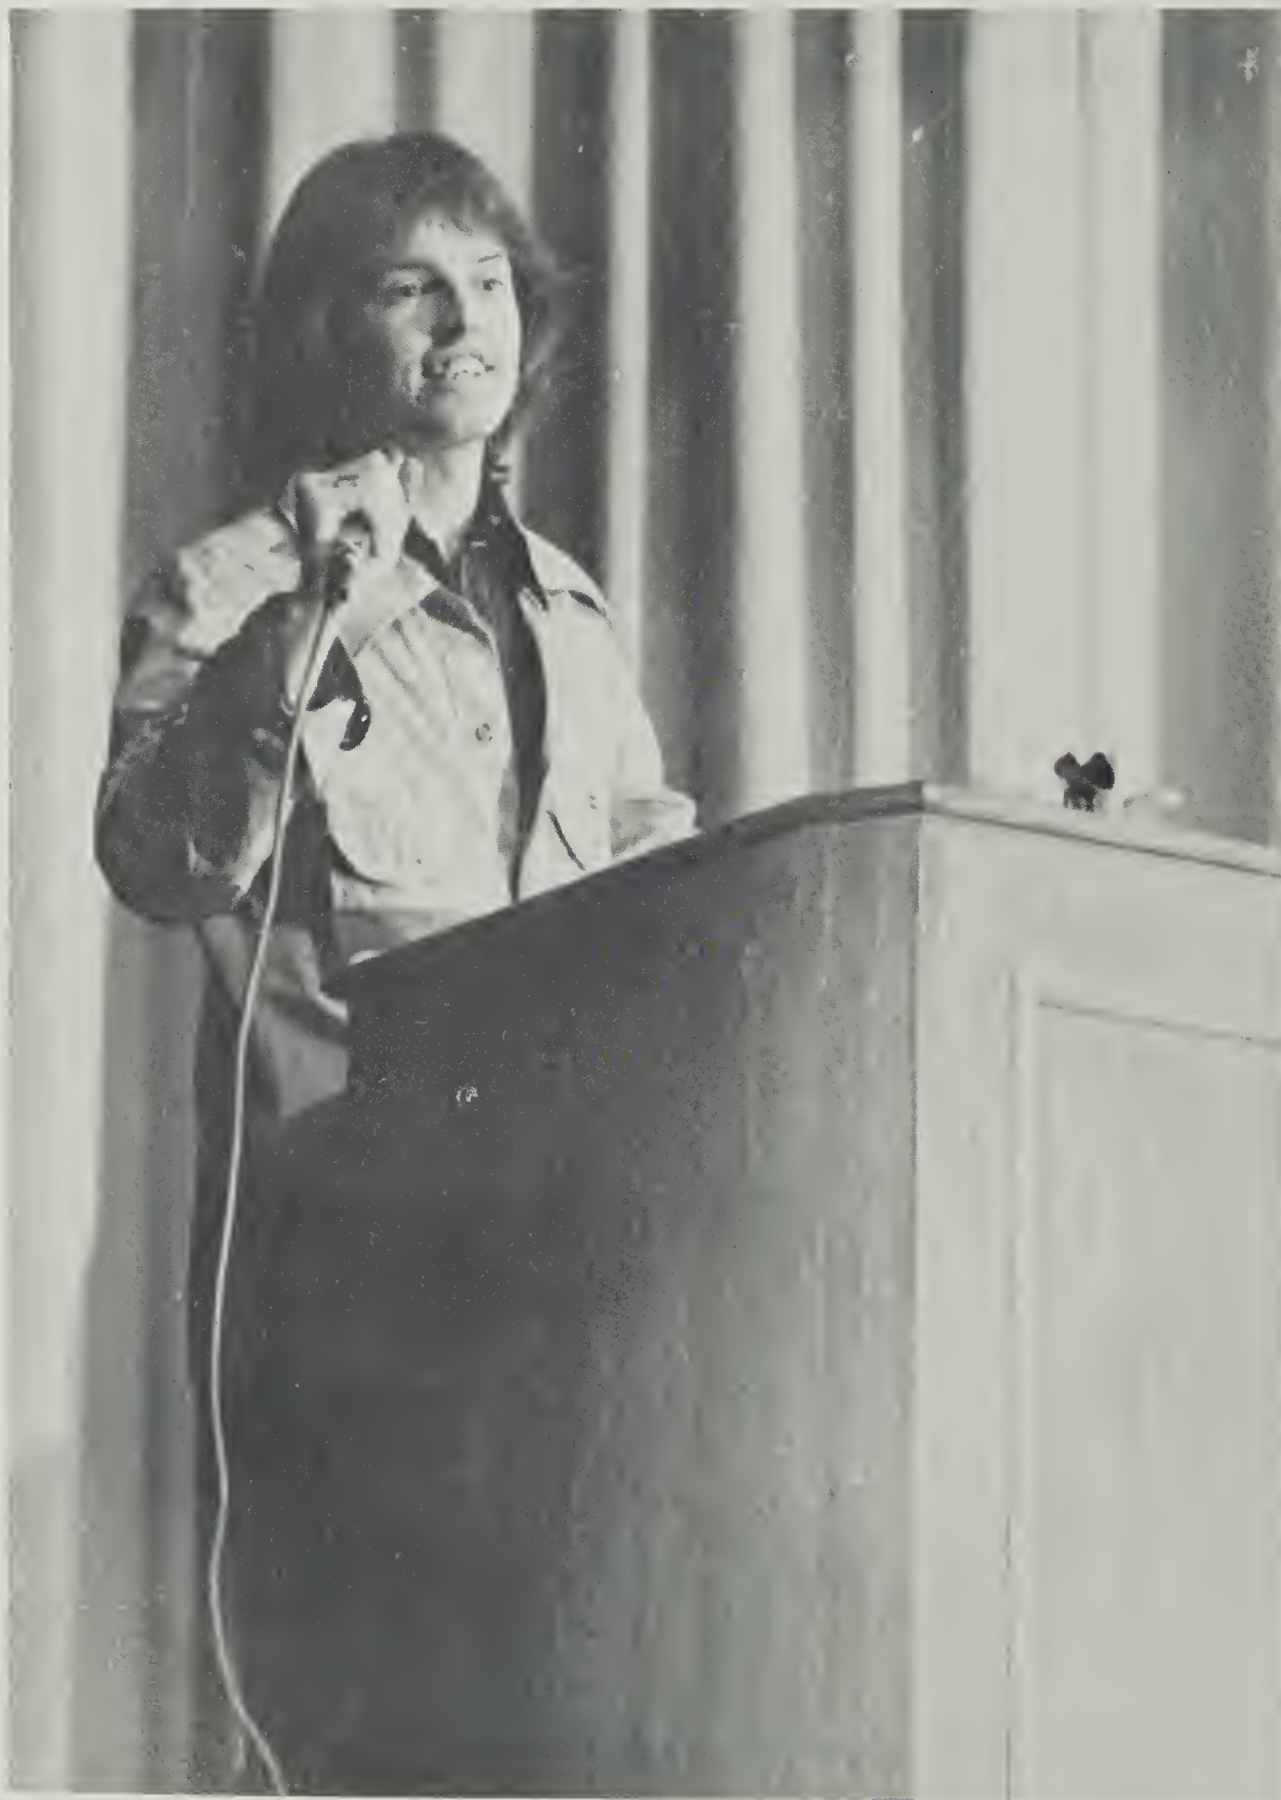

Democrats sweep election '76

Class couples play newlywed game

Well, they weren't exactly newlyweds, but these couples, each representing a class, knew each other pretty well. Host Steve Woehrle got some very interesting answers to some very interesting questions. Sponsored by the Juniors, the game drew a fairly large crowd and some money for the prom. Clockwise from far left: Steve Woehrle picks a probing question for one of the couples. Kit Baker "loves" his mother. Jill Neathery blushes at a question. The entire panel represented the Freshman to Senior class.

A peppy student body managed to make the Sadie Hawkins Dance the biggest and most profitable dance of the year. The students boogied, hustled and dosy-dosed to a wide variety of tunes. Colorful and descriptive posters and other decorations brightened up the sometimes dreary cafeteria. Clockwise from top left: Dancing around a haystack seems to be enjoyable. Judy Martin looks eager to win the upcoming race. A return visit from Prelude was welcomed by all. Susan Ransom is caught enjoying other than dancing. Three skillful violinists fiddle their way throughout the dance to a not always receptive crowd.

Swing your partner round and round

Band performs in coastal concerts

The Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, King's Dominion, Atlanta . . . Jimmy Carter? Wrong. It's the Fort Hunt Symphonic Band, whose competition filled Spring was tremendous. Hard work gave way to pleasure as these musical students caroused their way down the East Coast to perform.

The Concert Band performs "Quintagon" with Mr. Blake directing.

Ted Wilmot and Cookie Florcruz exhibit some Spanish dancing to the committee members. Mr. Ed Gassek savors the delectable courses offered at the dinner. Distinguished head table guests for the Evaluation Banquet included: Dan McGarvey, president of Student Government; Mr. Bill Craig, chairman of Ft. Hunt Steering Committee; Dr. Herman Howard, Area I Superintendant; Dr. James Manning, Ft. Hunt principal; Mr. Frank Cummins, PTA President; Mr. Warren Cikins, county supervisor; Mr. Robert Stokes, state department of education; Mr. Marion Ward, chairman of the Visiting Committee; Mrs. Ruth Dell, school board member.

The Fort evaluated for 1st time in 10 years

Teachers with name tags . . . strange names and faces rushing around the school . . . students conferring in large groups about student alienation and club participation. A week of endless meetings, slide shows, and effort. A week to make Ft. Hunt seem organized and productive. A week to pass. And we did. Ft. Hunt won accreditation, with a long list of remarks about everything from student involvement to teaching ability. Did it help? Did the evaluation committee recognize Ft. Hunt's most outstanding along with its least presentable characteristics? The answer lies with the committee.

Clockwise: from top left: Students and teachers confer over dinner in the cafeteria. Mrs. Schwaner leads the orchestra in a demonstration of Ft. Hunt's fine musical talent. Mr. Craddock, a member of the School Staff and Administration Committee, discusses the meetings with Mrs. Appel and Mrs. Groce, members of the same committee. Various students wait together in preparation for being introduced to the evaluation committee.

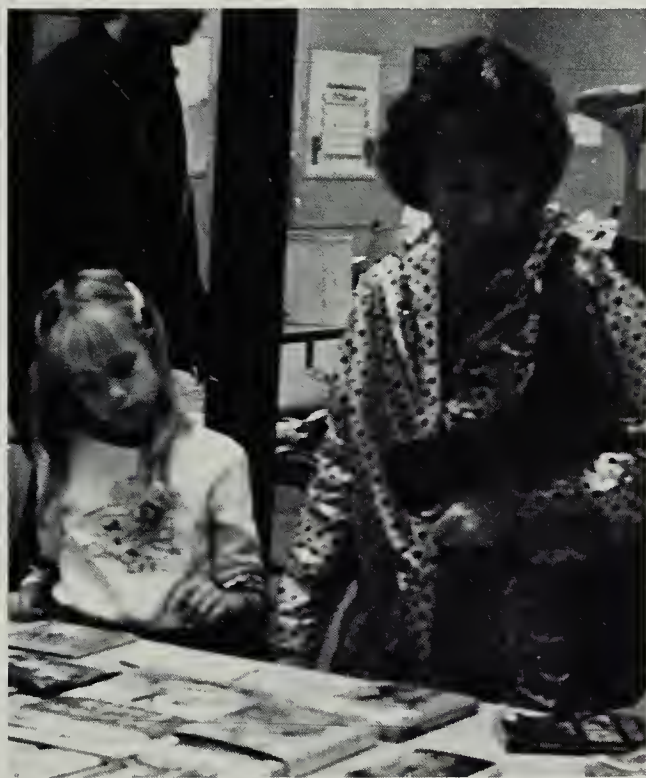

Garage sale supports orchestra efforts

After winning a silver medal in an International Competition in Bermuda last spring, the Orchestra looks forward to another successful year. They started this year by raising funds for upcoming events, giving a Pops Concert, and a successful garage sale.

Clockwise from far left: Members of the orchestra find they must concentrate on the director at all times. The orchestra garage sale turned out to be a success. Amy Gordon contemplates what the money will go for. Brass adds to the excitement of Tuesday night rehearsals.

Creativity and industry bring monetary gains

The year saw many active fund-raising activities by varied groups. Home Ec worked hard sponsoring "Santa's Shack" a shop selling Christmas gifts. Students hand made the merchandise. Shop students worked with a variety of mediums and concocted some very original and unusual projects. Fashion Merchandising sponsored the "Purely Potpourri" shop, for which many goods were bought on consignment from private art merchants.

Clockwise from far left: Sue Slotten and Lisa Snyder make Christmas decorations for "Santa's Shack"; Auto Mechanics tear 'em apart and put 'em back together again; Katie Smith heats wax for candle making; Mr. Monticone helps a student fix a clock radio; Genelle waits on customer Cindy Adams; Rick Nelson patches Saturday nights' dent; Peggy Dubblede wishes she could have all that jewelry; Yvonne Ennulat makes a sale while on duty in the "Purely Potpourri" shop.

Bowlers compete among

"Will all bowlers please come to the front of the school; your bus is waiting," calls Mrs. Bach over the intercom. It's Tuesday afternoon and time for all Fort Hunt bowlers to play ten pins. Sponsored by Mr. Lynn Wells, intramural bowling is a growing activity. Besides playing for enjoyment, bowlers compete for several trophies: best team, high game, high average, high strike, and high spare.

Captions from right:

themselves in strongest intramural activity

Ever moving onward, the Fort Hunt Science Department progresses deeper into the Earth's enigmas. Students observe the natural freedom of matter and energy through amplified eyes. Guided by the direction of an able faculty, they wrestle with the challenges of Biology, Chemistry, or Physics.

Labs offer experimentation and discovery

Biology student Susan Stickell focuses in on a specimen; Wendy Lawrence observes as Tammy Terry makes additional slides; Mary Ann Bastedo realizes she mixed the wrong chemicals; "This better work out all right," hopes Tom Barron; Elizabeth Imburg confirms her data in Physics.

"The Park", "Greasies", Highs, and 7-11 are very familiar names of student's hangouts. They leave to go McDonalds for lunch; to Fort Hunt Park after school. These places give the student body, who have cars, an alternative to eating at school, or hanging around at school. The administration, however hard they tried, could not keep the students at school.

McDonald's was the place to eat

Choral groups express themselves

At the holiday assembly the Concert Choir wishes the student body a "Merry Christmas."

The Madrigals are the most unique of all the choral groups at Fort Hunt. These nine singers, warbling everything from classical to jazz, dress in medieval outfits to complete their uniqueness. The diversity of the Jazz Choir, the Concert Choir and the Boy's and Girl's Choruses complement the choral music program providing good opportunities for self-expression.

Choir members await a signal from Mr. Murray.

Starting in January, an arctic cold wave hit the east coast from Maine to the Carolinas. By mid-February, supplies of natural gas and oil were dwindling. Schools and factories were closed in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Luckily, our area wasn't hit as hard because of the government agencies nearby. Thermostats were lowered throughout the school to 60 degrees. Stores cut their hours drastically to conserve energy. The worst outcome was that heating costs rose twenty to thirty percent.

Energy crunch hits United States . . .

Conserving Energy

- Some schools will close Monday and Tuesday in Alexandria, Arlington, Falls Church and Fairfax county. No such closings have been announced in D.C. or Maryland.

- Giant, Safeway, A&P stores and Grand Union are closed today in Virginia and have shorter hours the rest of the week. It's business as usual in D.C. and Maryland.

- Hecht, Woodward & Lothrop and other major department stores in Northern Virginia have curtailed their hours, with no changes reported for D.C. and Maryland. All Virginia retail stores are limited to 40 hours weekly for at least two weeks.

- Businesses using natural gas in D.C. and Maryland have been told to cut back, but confusion abounds.

- Federal, state and local government offices are expected to be open, but private business employees should check with their employers.

Details of store hours and school and library closings, A 10.

Clockwise from far upper left: Brian Bauman keeps Janine Herbertson warm. Energy saving tips that appeared in The Washington Post. Mary Howard gets a ride from Mary Leverone on a snowy day. Students trudge through deep January snow to get home. Headlines from area papers tell seriousness of the energy situation. President Carter appealed to stores to cut hours to save energy.

Here in the chilly halls of Fort Hunt, students went to classes with coats and heavy sweaters for at least three weeks. One week a boiler broke down and in certain parts of the school there wasn't any heat at all. The snow and ice finally melted during the first week of February, when temperatures got into the 50's and 60's for a few days.

Clockwise from above: Students had to trod through deep snow to get to school. The heaters, which didn't produce much heat, helped a bit to keep students warmer. Plows clear the streets in anticipation of a heavy snow. Brave smokers suffered cold to curb their nicotine fits.

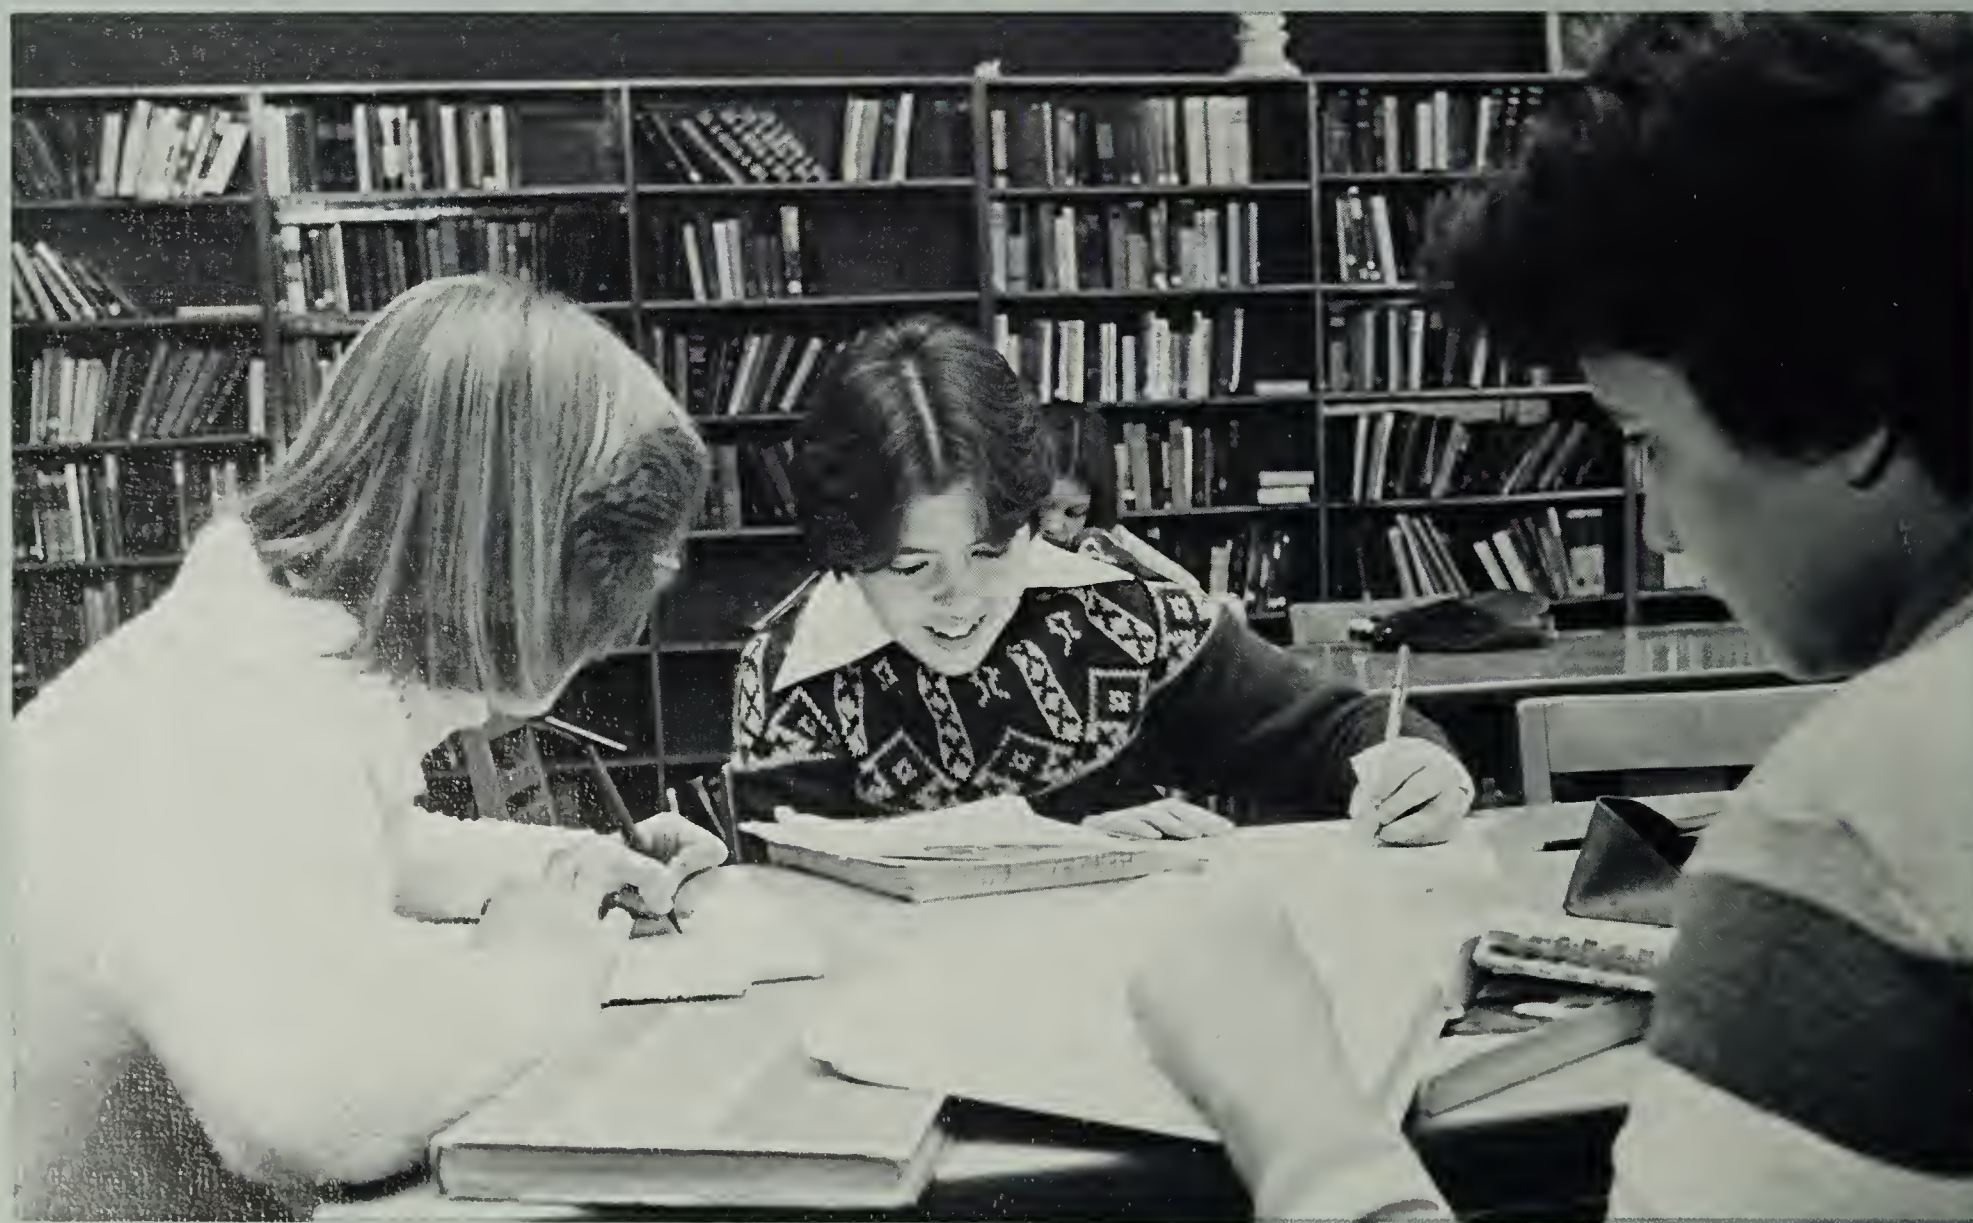

. . . and to Fort Hunt area

This year proved difficult for most students, yet everyone managed to find time to relax. Senior Slump peaked in early January, with the Juniors already on their way to becoming top dog.

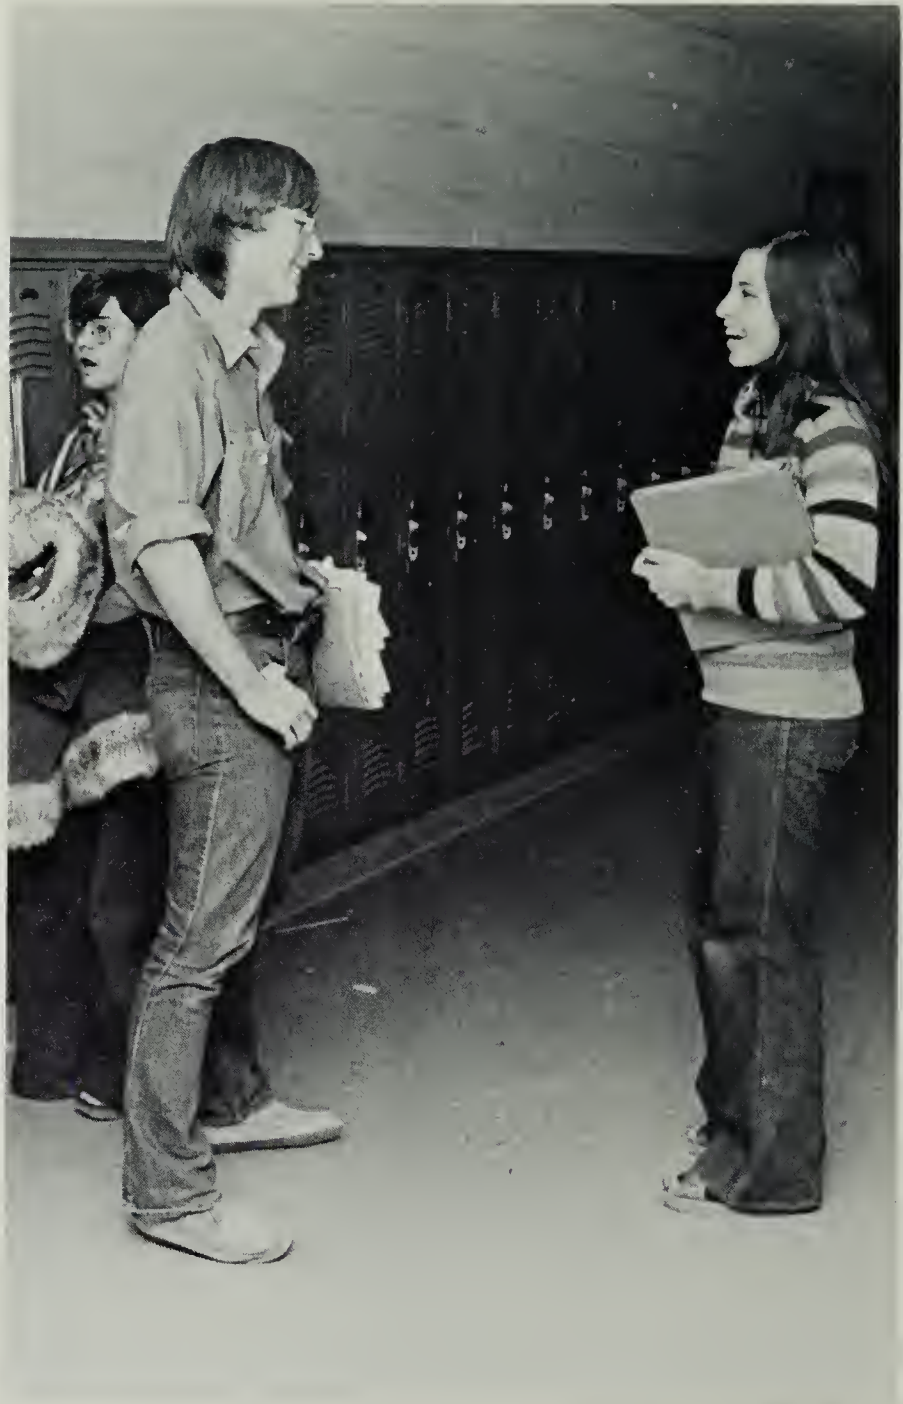

Clockwise from bottom: Liz Henzy, Hala Kotb, and Andrea Nyquist do some last minute studying in the library; Jeff Hahn's friends laugh as he ties his shoes; Ann grant admires Susan Higgason's new glasses; Bob Cordon catches up on some forgotten homework; Pam Bowden, Martha McClammy, and Liz Barnes have a leisurely conversation near the bandroom; Martin Lopez grades Mrs. Seidel's quizzes during 4th period.

Feds subscribe to a casual lifestyle . . .

For the student, leisure does not always imply inertia. In the day's free minutes, some students sprawl, some socialize, some study. Halls serve for all these functions. At rest, the mind is active.

. . . and find time for friends, good times

PEOPLE

People: the words of people heard, of students and teachers fixed in a human intelligence. Hear the brick: it breathes, it speaks. Without people, an institution is nothing. Once people inhabit and direct it, the institution assumes their flesh. It becomes the people, it engulfs the faces, the actions, the possibilities. Is freedom growth within this institution, or is it found in the break from it?

We swirl in the center of confusion like an unbridled maelstrom. Our ideals, our determination, turn and turn in the energy of our youth. We color the pure force within us green: we are the sprinter of seasons, his first steps in Spring.

When the year was lost we did not lament. Freedom mounts with knowledge; knowledge mounts with age. The pressures increase, but our perception widens; responsibilities are greater, but our confidence is stronger. Life's colors darken: a latent dominance is checked in the heat of a quick summer season.

Our laughter is the expression of our energy and of our easiness. We spin on the edge of direction; we inch toward purpose. Now we have leadership, now we have experience. Seniors stand on the edge of freedom. Behind them are the ragged edges of a difficult climb, the three rocky years of their ascension. The days quickly peel off, like leaves of shade. A Senior's freedom is natural: it is born of age and of experience, of classrooms and of compositions, of skill and of endurance. It is a summit.

Beyond these hills sprawl estencibly idyllic fields and ridges. But the life steepens, the weather worsens. What end, Claculus? What price, Government? Seniors step into the freedom of expanse, the liberty of uncertain winds.

Like many students, Fort Hunt's teachers are involved in a variety of extra-curricular activities. They act as sponsors and coaches of different organizations and teams. Each teacher has a background and special interest in the activity, which he associates with. A great deal of time is put into these activities, which meet outside the regular school day. These activities act as a liason between the students of the organizations and the administration and the community at-large.

Classroom efforts

Faculty imparts knowledge and influences minds

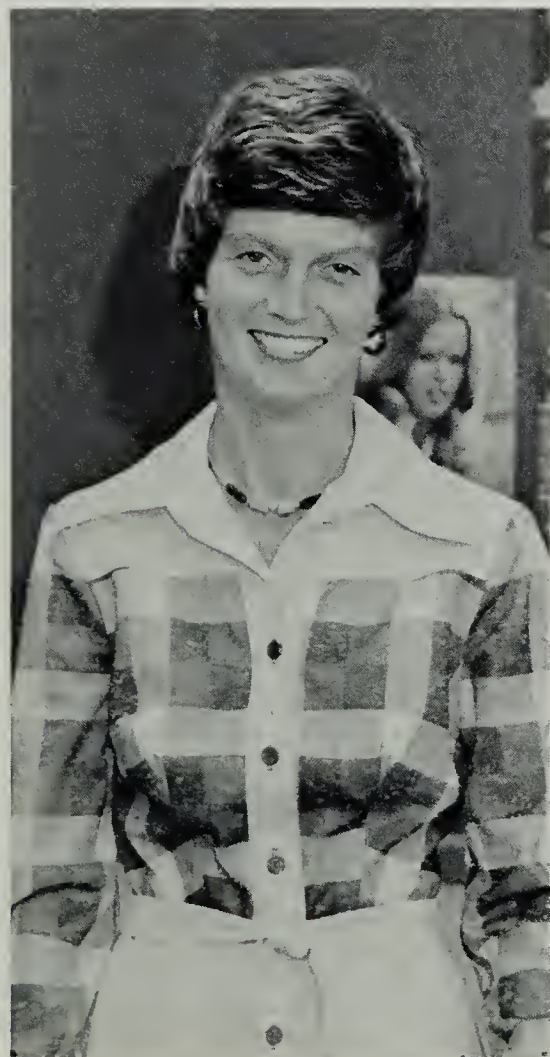

Besides being sponsors, coaches, and counselors, teachers are primarily instructors of young people. Each teacher spends four or five periods in the classroom teaching, grading papers or just talking with students. In striving to improve the manner in which the faculty performs, and the over-all school performance, the Steering Committee for Self-Study was formed. This year an extensive educational background and a variety of experiences characterize the Ft. Hunt staff.

Because a teacher's day is just as long and difficult as the student's, lunch periods and planning periods are greatly appreciated by the faculty. During these times, teachers can grade papers, plan lessons, or just relax from the strains of teaching. In addition to the faculty lounges, there are department workrooms where teachers have department meetings or where they can talk with other teachers. These breaks from teaching provide relaxation from the classroom and the daily routine.

Aides, part-timers, Instructional program enhanced by additional personnel

Instructional aides and part-time teachers are an important part of the staff. With the decreasing enrollment of students, it is necessary to hire a few teachers to teach a part-time schedule. Instructional Aides assist other teachers within a department with classes and in other ways with students on an individual basis.

INVOLVEMENT

Involvement: we are each distinct, yet our common interests bind our talents into one successful force. We do not sacrifice personality in involvement. We enhance it by the interaction and sharing of experience, by the smile or sweat of a common friend. This individual and united strength creates energy, and propels us onward. Involvement is freedom. Involvement with a friend or an organization becomes most important; a break from the immaterial becomes our salvation.

1976 Gunston District Champions

2nd in Regionals

Chuck Gupton hands off against Annandale.

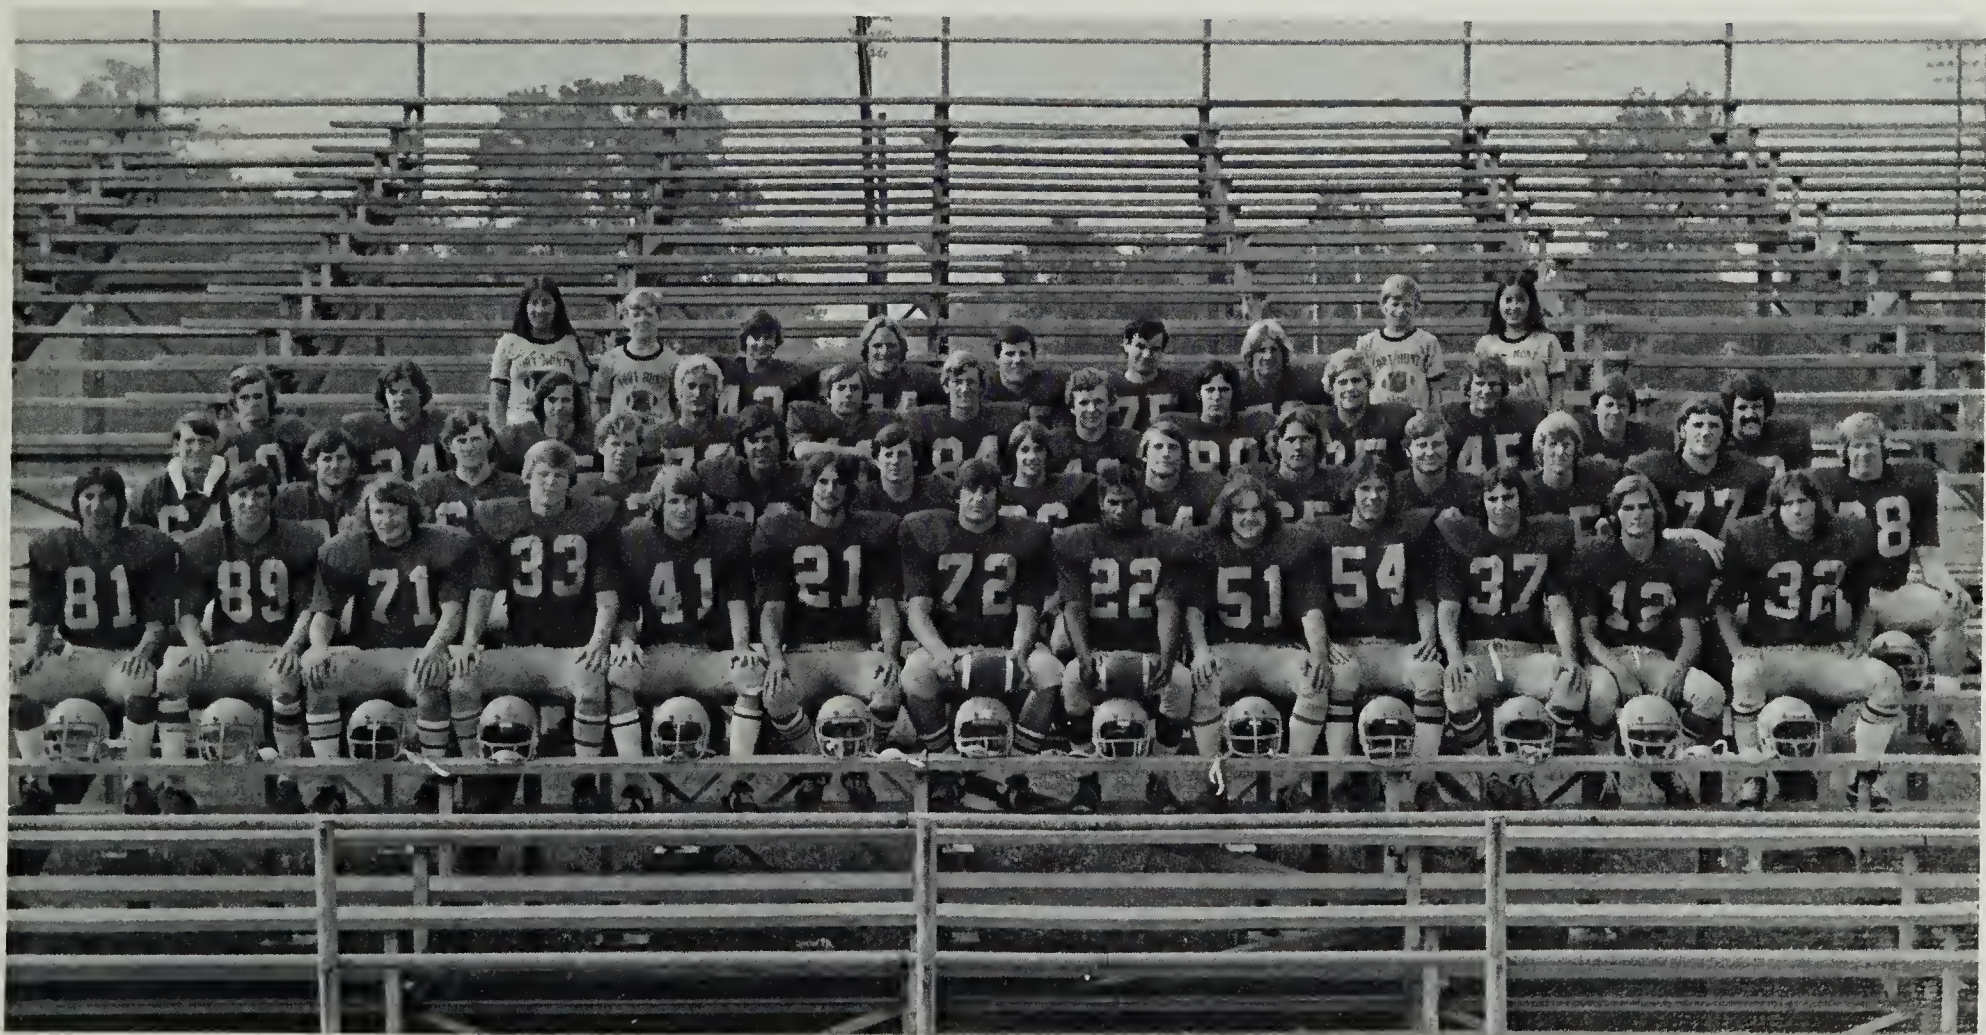

Head Coach Frank Creneti and assistant Brad King tensely anticipate the drive.

"Any football season that contains two victories over Annandale has to be an outstanding success", sums up Coach Frank Creneti about one of the finest seasons in Fort Hunt history. The 1976 team started out with one of the most exciting games ever played in the Northern Virginia area. Before more than 6,000 fans, the Federals defeated Annandale in the last seconds of the game on a 50-yard scoring pass from Chuck Gup-ton to Tom Gibbons. This started off a season that was to bring a first to Fort Hunt Football.

Led by runningbacks Matt Weathers, Bob Roby, and Steve Wirt, quarterback Chuck Gup-ton, engineered Federal offense to over 3,300 total yards. Through the fine blocking of Jeff Cornell and Mike Brewer, this potent offense rushed for 2,700 yards and Chuck Gup-ton threw to end Larry Quant for over 600 yards and 10 touchdowns.

Fort Hunt's exceptional defense, led by de-fensive backs Brian Donahue and Tom Gib-bons, limited their opponents to an average of 9 points per game. All this combined to put Fort Hunt into the Regional finals for the first time in the history of the school.

“Fort Hunt Tightens Its Hold On Gunston Lead”

Bob Harvey crushes the opposition.

The 1976 season brought many honors to Fort Hunt. Matt Weathers, Tom Gibbons, and Larry Quant were picked on the All-District, All-Regional, All-Metropolitan and the Associated Press All-State teams. Brian Donahue and Mike Brewer made the All-Regional and All-District teams with the following Federals receiving All-District honors: Jeff Cornell, Chuck Rivera, Scott Baker, Chip Armstrong — 2nd team and Chuck Gupton and Steve Wirt — 1st team. After the season, the honors continued to flow in as Matt Weathers was picked as the Outstanding Player of the Year by the Pigskin Club and was named as the Timmy Award winner by the Touchdown Club of Washington, D.C.

Federal fans can look forward to watching some of the seniors from this outstanding team continue their football careers. At least five of the Varsity Football players have been offered full scholarships to division-1 colleges.

Matt Musolino heads up the field behind Federal blockers.

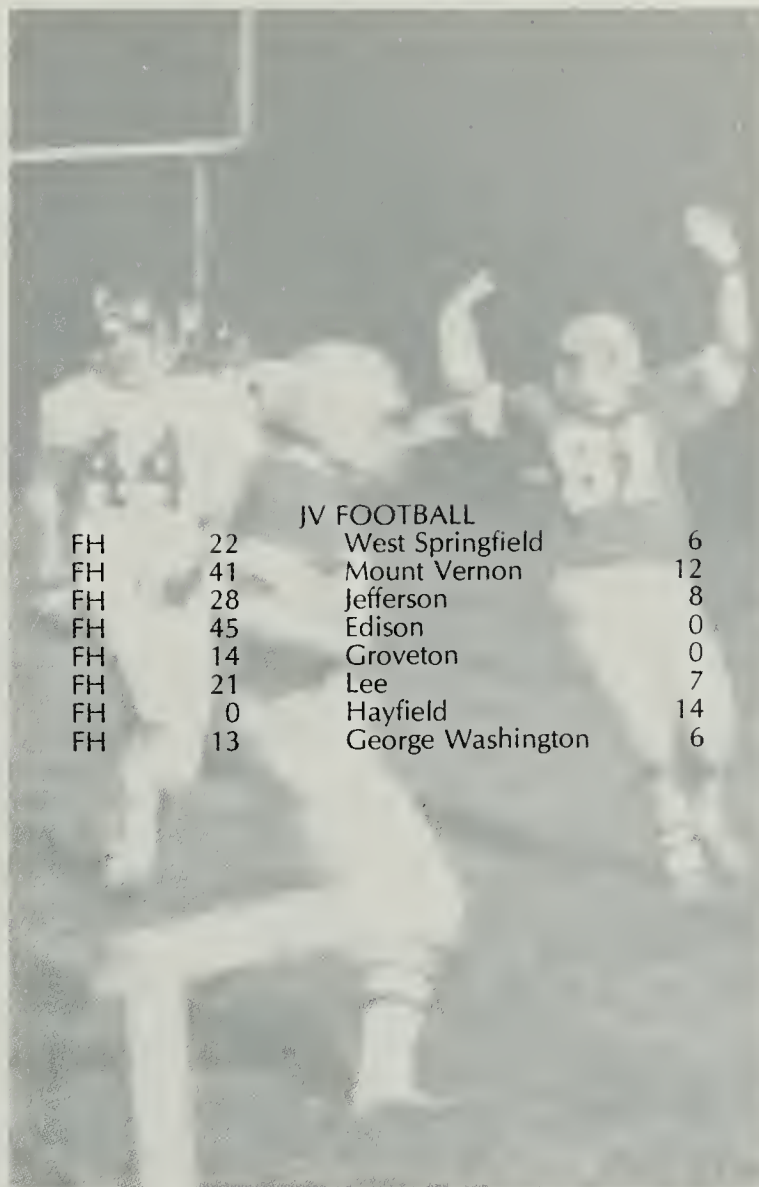

“Talent and self-discipline were assets for the JV Football Team” who finished with an outstanding 7-1 record. Coached by Andy Tisinger and John Shortridge, the phenomenal Federals demolished their opponents game after game.

The explosive offensive combination of quarterback Harry Hurst, running backs Rocky Belk, Jim Thomas, and Matt Mussolino, and the superb offensive line, averaged more than 30 points a game.

The stingy defense led by Eddie English and freshman Greg Thompson shut-down the opposition, allowing only 7 points a game.

Rocky Belk gains yardage.

Displaying enthusiasm, the Varsity Cheerleaders welcome their team onto the field.

Eighteen Varsity Cheerleaders have been inspiring school spirit for Fort Hunt athletics in the '76-'77 season. The group began their tenure by cheering for soccer and baseball last April. Despite many problems, the Varsity have had a good year. "The size of the squad was increased in order to provide support for seven sports during the school year, making cheerleading the only year-round sport", commented Coach Lisa Grable. Varsity Cheerleaders have also been responsible for organizing and running pep rallies and decorating locker rooms. They even had the added responsibility of cheering for Fort Hunt's "It's Academic" team in the fall.

Under the leadership of co-captains Vicki Shearer and Sabrina Wolfe, the Varsity Cheerleaders won awards at the International Cheerleading Foundation summer clinic and in the Lion's Club-sponsored State Cheerleading Competition.

After a slow start of 0-2, the Freshmen Football Team was led by a much improved defense. They allowed 30 points in their first two contests, but only a total of 8 points in the last four games. Offensively the freshmen were very successful, nearly outscoring their opponents 2-1. With their last three shut-out games, the team's overall was 4-2 for the season. "This was one of the most spirited Freshmen Football Teams I have ever coached," commented Coach Patrick.

The Freshmen Cheerleaders encouraged the winning spirit of the fall sports this year. Under the leadership of co-captains Amy Berry and Margaret Genovese, the cheerleaders started their entire class off to an exciting year. "Our Freshmen Cheerleaders are not only technically good at their cheers, but also genuinely spirited," said Coach Grable. The Freshmen Cheerleaders also cheer for Boys and Girls Basketball and Wrestling.

Because of a young group the previous year, the Varsity Field Hockey Team started the season with ten returning players. Led by tri-captains Jean Fulton, Kathy Bustle, and Sue Higgason they worked with dedication for their final standing of 4-2-2. Coach Schoellig concluded, "The reason we're a winning team is the fact that all of our players are good, not just a few of them. Their individual talents are combined to make a well rounded team."

Roundballer's score finest record in 14 years

The Federals finished the 1976-1977 Varsity Basketball season with a 14-7 record, which was the finest at the school in 14 years. The team was led by co-captains Lee Ginn, a four-year varsity veteran, and Randy Butler and Larry Quant, both three-year varsity starters.

The season was highlighted by winning the Groveton Christmas Tournament and breaking the Washington Post Top 20. Although eliminated in the first round of the District Tournament, the Federals had a fine campaign.

Lee Ginn, Randy Butler, and Jeff Redfearn had the most game time with 615, 586, and 543 minutes respectively. The same three also averaged the highest total points: Ginn 19.5, Butler 16.3, and Redfearn 15.

Lee Ginn and Larry Quant go up for the rebound.

After seven straight heartbreaking losses, with all but two teams overcoming Fort Hunt by less than four baskets, the Varsity Girls Basketball Team finally had their break mid-way through the season. Sue Higgason, averaging 14 points a game, was the teams leading scorer. Excellent rebounding was provided by Mary Leverone and Sue Higgason throughout the season. The most versatile player on the team, adept ball-handler Mary Henry, was also second highest scorer. Lisa Grimes and Sue Schober provided the outside scoring that was vital to the team's ultimate success.

Sue Higgason, Mary Leverone, and Mary Henry prepare to head off the opposing team.

Fort Hunt's Wrestling efforts were severely hurt by forfeits, injury, and lack of experience this year in several weight classes. However, there were outstanding individuals who did excel. Donnie Swygert, at 119 pounds, took 4th in the district and 5th in the region. Greg Barisano was undefeated in dual meets and placed 2nd in the district, and Brian Hennings took 3rd in the district. Steve Ives sported a 9-3 record in the 155 pound weight class. At 167 pounds, Erik Larsen was 10-1-1 and district champion. Heavyweight Chip Armstrong also placed 2nd in district.

Led by co-captains Laura Portasik and Cindy Adams, the Girls Gymnastics Team wound up the year with a 5-1 record and placed 2nd in district. The team consisted of basically returning members, but seven new competitors were also added to the roster. Maria Stalzer, Sabrina Wolfe, Brooke Neathery, and Cindy Adams all qualified for Regionals. "The team worked hard to do well in the district, but more importantly, I feel they accomplished much more than their record shows," commented Coach Robinson.

They were born to win. Two years ago, this Federal team was the youngest in the region. This year they proved to be one of the finest teams in the area. Helped by a strong detachment of hurdlers such as Rick Echard, Richard Pierce, and Jack Kilgore, and by outstanding distance men Matt Smith in the mile, Jay Caldwell in the two-mile, and Richard Murray in the 1,000, the Federals rolled on. But not without sprinters like Billy Mae, Mark Mial, Chris Brevard, "Brother Paul" Brennan, and "Flake" Flanagan. Led by captains Smith, McAnulty, and Pierce, this was the best winter track season of the fleet-footed Federals, beating Edison in the districts for the first time in seven years. Coach Al Perrault summed it up by saying, "they were 1st in district, 4th in the region, had 8 district champions, and a 1st place in my heart."

Mark Chester sails over the high bar.

Bill McAnulty runs well at Regional tournament.

Swim team continues to dominate the waters

A Federal swimmer posed ready for the gun.

The Fort Hunt Swim Team continues to demonstrate that it is one of the most powerful teams in the eastern United States. After finishing its dual meet season with a 6-0 record (13 straight victories over a two year period) the Federals traveled to East Carolina University for the 22nd Annual Atlantic Seaboard Inter-scholastic swimming and diving championships. Both the girls and boys showed their strength as the girls finished second and the boys took fourth. Co-captain Beth Harrell won both the 100 yard free-style and butterfly and was named "Most Outstanding Swimmer" of the championships.

Girls continue to dominate region

The "super-seniors" closed out their second successful season this year highlighted by their Medley Relay team of Dianne Ewers, Missie Parziale, Terrie Cox, and Linda Portasik who qualified for the National Championship in California.

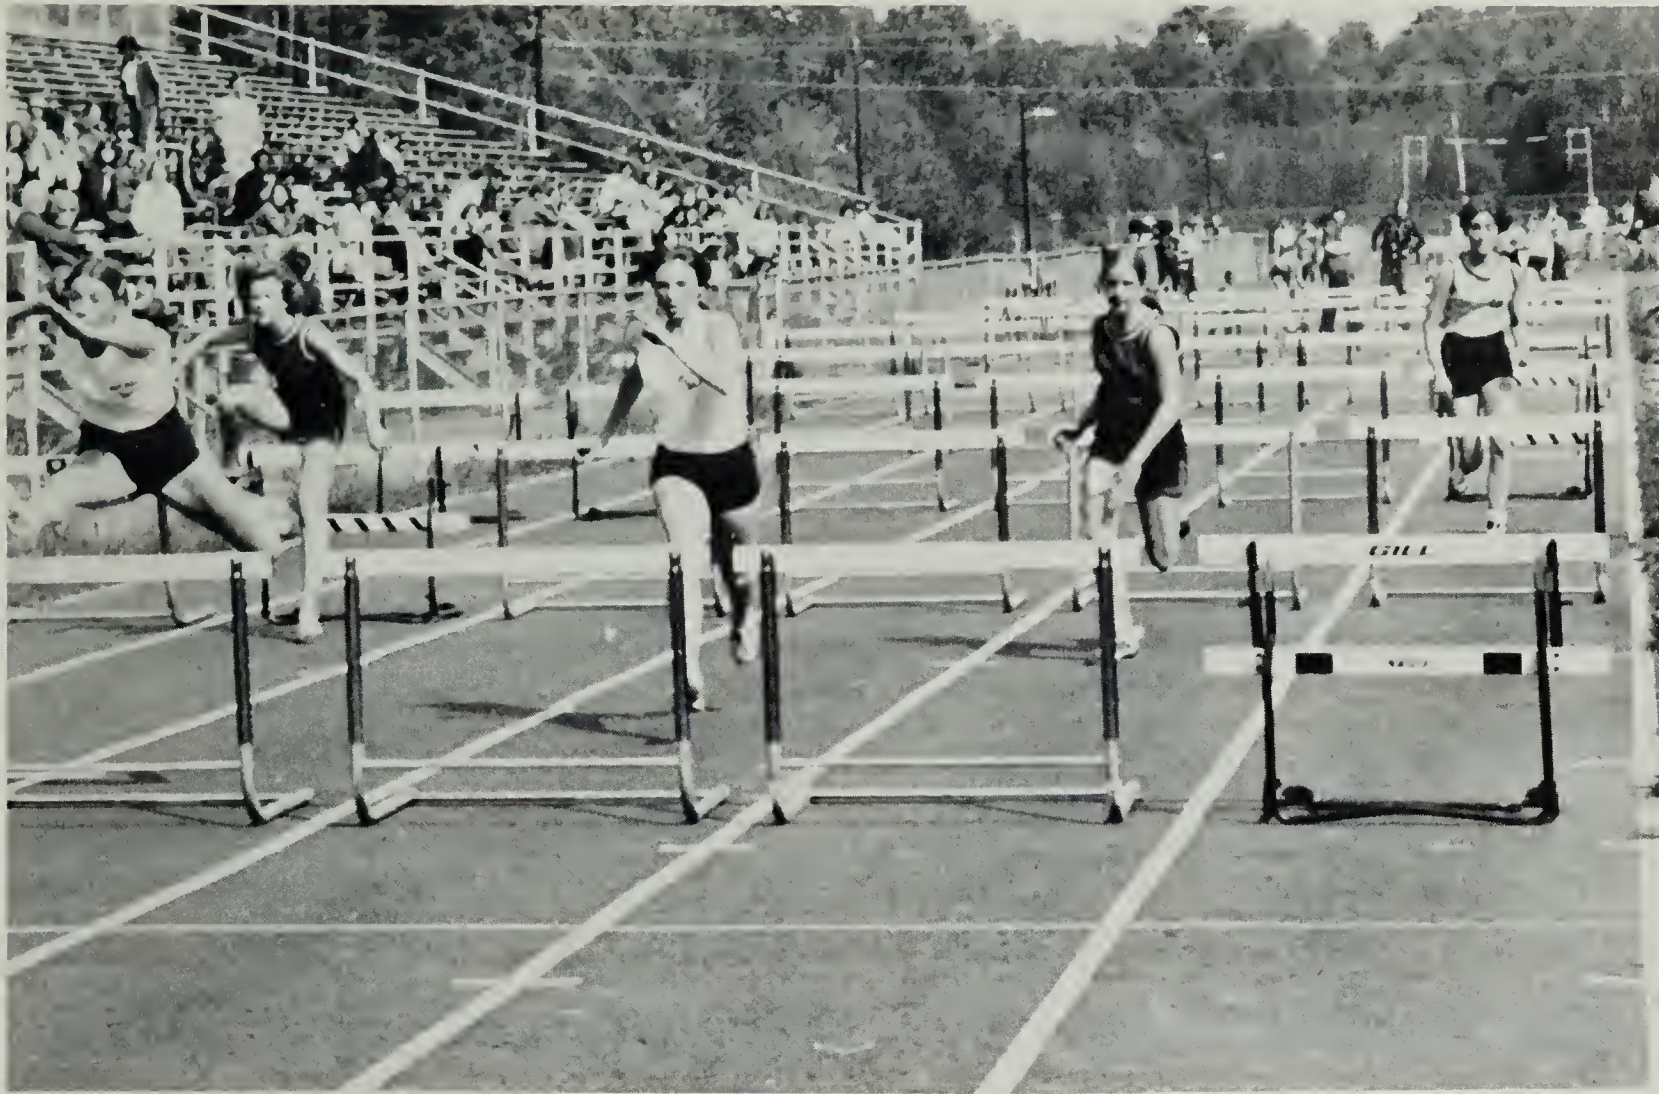

In two years, the six seniors have won two District Championships, two Harringer Relays, two Gaithersburg Relays, two Fairfax County meets, one Fort Hunt Relay Carnival, and are undefeated in dual meet competition. Karen Hollick became District Champion in the 880 and is also the defending Regional Mile Champion. "The team looks toward another outstanding year", commented Coach Tisinger, accented by underclass team members who will be competing on Regional as well as National level.

Cookie Florcruz breaks the finish line.

Girls qualify for regional playoffs

Lisa Grimes sprints to first base.

With a strong group of returning veterans, the Federal Softball Team has become a top contender for the District title. With outstanding pitching, excellent hitting, and good defense, the girls put together their second straight winning season and again qualified for the Regional playoffs. Coach Creneti stated, "Our team has matured a great deal because of the fine leadership of our outstanding seniors, and on any given day, we could be the best team in the Northern Region."

Gunston District 2nd Place

The Fort Hunt Raquetteers led by seniors Danny Shipman, and Tim Casad, finished another admirable year of play losing to only one other team in the Gunston District. The team ended up second in the district and played some outstanding matches in the Regional Tournament.

"It's tough coming in second since we had a string of five District Championships in a row. However, our team always played superbly and was defeated by a team that had not beaten Fort Hunt in ten years. I guess it was their turn," commented Coach Vretos.

Excellent season despite setbacks to star performers

The Federal Track Team finished the season with its best performance in the Gunston District yet. With its first win in the County meet, they won the Harringer Relays, finishing second in the district meet. Outstanding performances this season were given by sophomores Mark Mial and Rocky Belk, who tied the school record and broke the district record.

Service clubs are committed to aiding the Fort Hunt community as well as the school. They assemble service minded individuals in an organized unit and channel their collective energy toward constructive projects. Beautification of the school grounds in conjunction with the student government, UNICEF and Kidney Foundation drives, are but a few of the many endeavors undertaken by these organizations.

The majority of clubs fall into the Special Interest category. From language to environment, from math to sailing: the diversity is astounding. Students pursue their interests, their common callings, and provide the leadership necessary to endure. The freedom is alive.

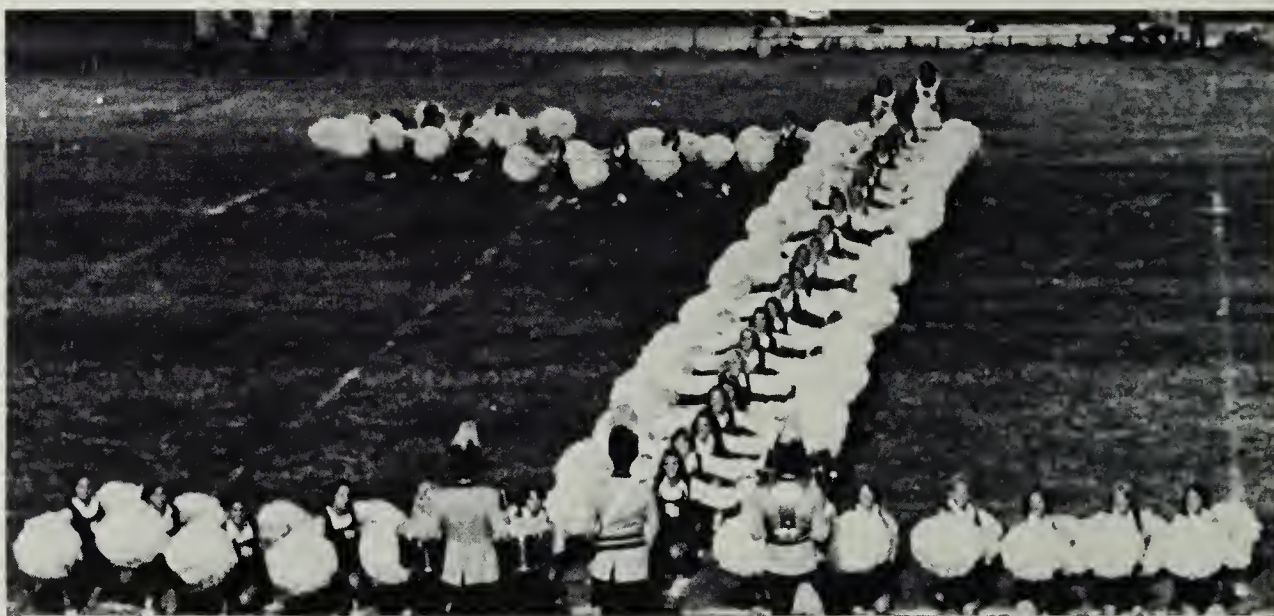

Honor Societies reward academic excellence and provide incentive for achievement. Though they perform no real function, their spiritual worth is essential.

Fort Hunt's publications immortalize the moment, they capture time in a prism and lend it color. Fort Hunt's history is recorded in the yearbook and newspaper, its creative thought is harnessed in the literary magazine. The written word survives.

students come from.

Laura Portasik and Jill Neathery have the Homecoming Week of October 18 planned except for choice of the theme.

An SG-sponsored dance on September 11 will feature a live band, chosen from a large group of bands which the Council saw in audition.

SG has moved into new quarters, taking over the last room in the Main Teachers' Lounge. "We hope all students will feel free to stop by if they have any questions or if they want to work on SG projects this year," stressed Dan McGarvey.

be elected at a senior assembly in the second week of school since Phyllis Redic moved.

Senior plans include collecting a senior fee this year. The fee will be about $2 or $3 from each senior to build up the class treasury.

The theory, according to Brian, is to have everyone contribute a few dollars so that altogether the seniors will be well on the way to realizing a $2,000 goal.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

It is said that man is born free, yet everywhere he is in chains. We, the children of knowledge, must study man's condition in order to improve it. Change comes to the intelligent and to the strong, comes slowly as the dawn over the horizon. It must begin here, in the schools, at Fort Hunt, where mind and hand meet in concerted effort. Only then will the key fit the lock and the shackles open.

We have much freedom. We celebrate our liberties in our classes, in our clubs, in our smoking lounges, on our teams. See the faces smile; hear the laughter ring. But see also the gestures of newness, of discontent, of improvement. Hear the voices of protest, of difference, of change. Let the freedom of ideas be our anthem, let us raise the flag of what we are, and the politics of what we can be.
